FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Electoral College Resolution Passed Both Houses—The Funding Bill—Reduction of the Army—Tax Bill Referred to Conference Committee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 11, 1868.

SENATE.

Mr. GRAGIN introduced a bill authorizing the appointment of a commission to examine the claims of Montana for enrollment of volunteers during the late Indian war. Referred to the Committee on Territories.

The House bill for the registration of fifteen Canadian vessels owned by citizens of the United States was passed.

Mr. WILSON called up the bill providing for the discontinuance, on the 1st of January next, of the Freedmen's Bureau, which passed. Its substance has been published.

The bill declaratory of the laws relative to officers cashiered or dismissed from the army was passed.

The bill to fund the National debt and for the conversion of the notes of the United States was taken up. The question was on the amendment reported by Mr. Sherman, from Finance Committee, providing for the issue of twenty, thirty and forty year bonds, bearing interest respectively at five, four and-a-half and four per cent. per annum, to be exempt from taxation in any form, said bonds to be exclusively used for the redemption or purchase of an equal amount of present interest bearing debt of the United States other than existing five per cent. bonds and three per cent. certificates, to be issued to any amount sufficient to cover the principal of all outstanding obligations with the exception named. The amendment provides for the annual appropriation out of custom house receipts of one hundred millions, to be applied to the payment of interest and reduction of principal in lieu of the present sinking fund. It makes the new bonds and any lawful money of United States exchangeable for such other at the Treasury, unless the amount of outstanding United States notes shall be equal to $400,000,000, or unless specie payments shall be resumed. Finally it legalizes contracts made specifically payable in coin.

Mr. SHERMAN addressed the Senate, arguing that recent events made it imperative that Congress should lighten the public debt.

Mr. SUMNER followed in a long written speech against repudiation in any form.

The Senate went into executive session.

When the doors were opened the House amendment to the electoral college resolution came up, was concurred in, and the bill goes to the President.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The joint resolution restricting the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims to the loyal citizens of Arkansas was passed.

The bill authorizing the construction of bridges at Fort Leavenworth and St. Joseph, on the Missouri river, was passed.

The bill to reduce and fix the military peace establishment was taken up.

The action of last night adopting Mr. Butler's amendment to the fourth section was reconsidered, and Mr. Paine's substitute, then offered, was agreed to—seventy-nine to forty-four.

A similar substitute was agreed to for the fifth section.

The sixty-eighth section was amended by reducing the incumbents of the offices of Adjutant General, Quartermaster General, Commanding General, Chief of Ordnance, Paymaster General, Surgeon General, and Bureau of Military Justice, to the rank and pay of Colonel of Cavalry. All staff officers were also reduced by one grade. The staff in the Quartermaster's and Ordnance Department were also reduced one-half in number. The staff of the Bureau of Military Justice were also reduced.

Mr. BOUTWELL, from the Committee on Reconstruction, reported back with the Senate amendment to the joint resolution excluding from the electoral college States lately in rebellion, which (the Army bill having been temporarily laid aside) was read. The amendment reported was read, as follows: Strike out the words "and which States are not now represented in Congress," and insert the following: "Provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to any State which was represented in Congress on the 4th of March, 1867."

After an exciting discussion the amendment was agreed to and the joint resolution passed—112 to 21.

Mr. SCHENCK said the Committee of Ways and Means had gone over fifty-two of the one hundred and eighty-two amendments of the Senate to the tax bill, and he suggested that the House accept a general report to non-concur in all the amendments and let them go to a Conference Committee. There being no objection that course was adopted and a Committee of Conference was asked.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, presented the report of the Conference Committee on the legislative appropriation bill, which was agreed to.

The army bill, as amended, was ordered to be printed.

Louisiana Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 11.—In the Senate to-day the resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of both Houses to investigate the late election was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

A bill was introduced in the House prohibiting any distinction whatever on account of race or color in any public conveyance or place of business where license is required.

The Governor yesterday notified the Legislature he had signed the fourteenth amendment and the Police Commission bill. The Commissioners have been confirmed and entered on their duties.

A petition was presented to the House and referred from Ex-Governor Wells, asking the payment of his salary from the time of his supercedure by military authority until the inauguration of Governor Warmouth.

A bill was introduced vesting the executive with the control of the public schools in New Orleans, the seventeen directors to be appointed by the Governor.

Sentenced to be Executed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, July 11.—The Governor and Council to-day voted to issue a warrant for the execution of Silas James and Charles E. James for the murder and robbery of James Clark, in Worcester, some six months ago. Both are to be executed in Worcester on the 24th inst.

POLITICAL.

Speech of F. P. Blair Accepting the Democratic Nomination—A Pill for Union Soldiers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—The following is a the speech made by F. P. Blair last evening, in reply to Gen. Morgan:

I accept the platform of resolutions passed by the late Democratic Convention, and I accept their nomination with feelings of the most profound gratitude. And, sir, I thank you for the very kind manner in which you have conveyed to me the decision of the Convention. I accept the nomination with the feeling that your nomination for the Presidency is one which will carry us to certain victory, and because I believe that nomination is the most appropriate that could be made by the Democratic Convention. The contest which we wage is for the restoration of Constitutional Government, and it is appropriate that we should make this contest under the lead of one who has given his life to the maintenance of Constitutional Government. We make this contest for the restoration of the principles of Government which belong to our race, and, my fellow-citizens, it is most proper that we should select for our leader, not from the military, but one who has devoted himself to civil pursuits and to the study of the understanding of our Constitution and its maintenance with all the force of reason and judgment.

My fellow-citizens, I have said the contest before us was one for the restoration of our race. It is to prevent the people of our race being excluded from their homes, exiled from the Government which they formed and created for themselves and for their children, and to prevent them from being driven out of exile or trodden under the foot of a semi-barbarous race. In the contest we shall have the sympathy of every man who is worthy to belong to the white race. What civilized people on the earth would refuse to associate with themselves in all the rights and honors and dignities of their country such men as Lee and Johnston? [Voice, "none," "none."] What civilized country would fail to do honor to those who, fighting for an erroneous cause, yet distinguished themselves by gallantry never surpassed [applause] in that contest, for which they are sought to be disfranchised and exiled from their homes? In that contest they proved themselves to be our peers. [At this point there was an omnious silence, followed by repressed clapping of hands and faint cheers.]

My fellow citizens, it is not my purpose to make a lengthened address, but simply to express my gratitude for the distinguished honor which has been conferred on me.

And now, from my heart I reiterate the words of thanks that fell from my lips when I rose.

New York City Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—The deaths in this city for the week were 614, or 201 more than last week. The increase was caused by cholera infantum, sun stroke during the very hot days we have had, and other casualties.

Michael J. Canta and Chas. Burke, two United States soldiers, have been sentenced to be executed on the 29th of August at White Plains, for the murder of Miss Ellen Hicks in 1866.

Eleven officers of the British army in Canada arrived to-day as guests of the St. George Cricket Club, with which Club and several cricketers from Philadelphia and Boston they play an international cricket match next week at Hoboken.

The steamship Bremen, from Bremen, has arrived.

The steamship Guiding Star, from Aspinwall on July 4th, which arrived last evening, brings Panama dates to the 4th inst.

The Fourth of July was duly celebrated by the United States ships in the harbor and the American residents at Panama.

The Presidential election continues to create a little excitement in the interior, and some slight trouble had occurred.

Dates from Bogota to June 5th, state Congress closed its session June 3d. The President, with the consent of the Senate, has named Gen. Santos Arcota Minister to the United States. Nothing of importance from Honduras or San Salvador. Dates from Lima, Peru, are to June 22d. The yellow fever was decreasing and business becoming decidedly brisk.

News from Chili is to June 10th. It is absolutely without interest.

The yellow fever has broken out and severe shocks of an earthquake had been felt in Ecuador.

From the Argentine Republic advices are to June 1st. The country is in a deplorable state and the presidential election continues to cause serious disturbances, more especially in Northern provinces.

California Items.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Capt. Robert H. Pearson, formerly of the Pacific Mail Company, died to-day.

The Bulletin's semi-annual review of the trade and commerce of San Francisco for the six months ending June 13th, shows thirty and a half millions tonnage entered the port during that period, two-fifths of which was foreign trade: the value of foreign imports during the same time was about eight millions in gold, and the estimated currency value of free goods received by the Panama steamers twenty-two and a half millions; the value of merchandize exported since the 1st of January, nine and three-quarters millions, and coin and bullion over twenty millions; the internal revenue collections in the San Francisco district the past year was over five millions; since January 1st thirty-two thousand passengers arrived, two-thirds of which remained.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Admiral Hastings, commanding the English squadron in the Pacific, disapproves of the proceedings of Commander Bridges of the Chanticleer in the affair at Mazatlan, and orders him to re-open that port immediately and proceed to Panama.

Don Angel Martinez, leader of the late unsuccessful revolution in Sinaloa, and Chief of Staff, Col. Toledo, are now in this city.

The Democrats of San Francisco last night held a large meeting to ratify the nominations of Seymour and Blair. Gov. Haight presided.

Gen. Ord, Commander of the Department of California, has called the attention of the Secretary of War to the fact of the contemplated reduction of the army to be made by Congress. No recruits can be sent here to fill vacancies made by a large number of men soon to be discharged, and some posts in Arizona and Nevada will be abandoned, while others will be weakened, so that it will be impossible to send expeditions against hostile Indians, and the settlements and overland routes will be exposed to attack.

The Coroner's jury in the Oakland disaster of July 4th returned a verdict charging gross neglect on the part of the management of the ferry company.

Coal Miners' Strike.

General Court Martial—Currency Matters—Ordnance Frauds—The Constitutional Amendments—Nominations Considered—Remarkable Discovery of Gold.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 11, 1868.

COURT MARTIAL.

A general court martial has been appointed to meet at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, on the 16th inst., for the trial of such persons as may be brought before it.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

The resignation of Brig. Gen. Robert K. Scott, Brevet Major General U. S. Volunteers, has been accepted by the President, to take effect from July 6th.

CURRENCY MATTERS.

The fractional currency printed for the week amounted to $422,000; shipment, $694,665; U. S. notes, $192,265; national bank notes issued, $112,070; amount in circulation, $299,823,225; fractional currency destroyed, $433,100.

ORDNANCE FRAUDS.

The Ordnance Committee are maturing a report relating to the alleged frauds in the Ordnance Department and will soon present it to the House. The report will conclude with a resolution recommending the removal of Gen. Dyer, the present head of the Bureau.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The President has issued a proclamation announcing, in accordance with the acts of Congress, that North Carolina, having ratified the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution, is now admitted to the rights belonging to one State in the Union. The President also states that certified copies of the action of Florida ratifying the same amendment have been received, but such action having taken place before the passage of the act of Congress making it incumbent on him to issue a proclamation to that effect, he confines his proclamation to North Carolina.

NOMINATIONS CONSIDERED.

The Senate to-day confirmed J. S. Watts as Chief Justice of New Mexico, E. W. Willet as receiver of public moneys at Sacramento, and Col. A. E. Mayhew as Government Attorney of Montana. The nomination of Col. Burnside as Second Auditor of the Treasury in place of E. B. French was rejected, and the nomination of W. M. Evarts as Attorney General, discussed but not acted on.

Gen. Casey has been placed on the retired list at his own request.

WASHINGTON, July 12, 1868.

SCHOONER SAFE—PICKING UP GOLD IN LUMPS.

Our Consul at Victoria, V. I., writes to the Secretary of State, under date June 6th, that the crew and passengers of the schooner Louisa Dawens, reported lost on the Northern coast, was all safe and had discovered a rich gold field on Lugico river, Alaska, and were picking up gold in lumps. The report was credited at Sitka, and every description of water craft was being brought into requisition to convey adventurers to the spot.

LOUISIANA.

Inauguration of State Officers—Lieut. Gov. Dunn (Colored) Sworn In—His Remarks on the Occasion.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 12.—Both Houses of the Legislature have adopted a resolution for a joint session on Monday to inaugurate Gov. Warmouth.

In the Senate yesterday a resolution was introduced to induct Lieut. Gov. Dunn into office, which was done by the administration of the constitutional oath by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, in the presence of the Senate. Senator Lynch, President pro tem, introduced Mr. Dunn to the Senate as the first Lieutenant Governor of the State under the Constitution of 1868 with a few complimentary remarks, in which he alluded to the race to which Mr. Dunn belongs. In his reply Mr. Dunn said: "As for myself and my people, we are seeking social equality. That is a thing no law can govern. We all have our preferences. We all wish to select our associates, and no legislature can select them for us. We ask nothing of the kind. We simply ask to be allowed an equal chance in the race of life, an equal opportunity of supporting our families, of educating our children, and of becoming worthy citizens of this government."

Governor Warmouth has not notified the commanding General of the adoption of the fourteenth amendment, hence no order has yet been issued turning over the State Government to the civil authorities.

It is reported that a mob broke into the office of the Iliad, a paper published by J. W. Blackburn in the interior of the State, last week, and destroyed the press and scattered the type. Mr. B. is the member of Congress elect, and his paper was one of the official organs of the late Convention.

Plasterers' National Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 11.—The Plasterers' National Convention assembled in this city on Tuesday and remained in session until to-day. They adopted resolutions as follows:

Resolved, That we, the plasterers of the United States, in Convention assembled, do hereby pledge ourselves to support any plasterers' society herein represented which may feel disposed to strike for the eight hour labor movement, provided that such association notify the National Secretary to that effect.

Resolved, That the various organizations composing the Convention be and are hereby requested to advance their standard of wages approximating to five dollars per day as soon as practicable.

Pursuit of Thieves—One Captured.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 12.—Yesterday a party of men who were hunting the thieves who attempted to rob Adams Express car on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad on Friday, chased the gang into a thicket near Rockford, Ind., and succeeded in capturing one named Charles Roseberry. He was brought to this city last night and confined in the jail. The others escaped, but as there is a large number of citizens and officers in pursuit they will probably be taken. It is reported that three of the gang, Moore, Jerrell and Sparks, were severely wounded in the fight on Friday night. The citizens of Seymour met last night and formed a vigilance committee.

British Papers and the Democratic Nominations—Naturalization Treaty in Germany—Political Offenders Banished from Spain—International Trial of Reaping Machines.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, July 11.—The London papers generally consider the Democratic nominations unfavorable to success. The Standard thinks the sanguine Democrats may well doubt if Seymour can defeat the most popular American warrior.

The News says defeat is sure to follow the selection of so weak a candidate as Mr. Seymour.

The Herald treats the coming contest as a foregone conclusion, and thinks that Gen. Grant's personal popularity would elect him in any event.

LONDON, July 11.—Latest dispatches received from Madrid state that Don Antonio Duke de Montpensier had been arrested and taken to the frontier.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, July 11.—By virtue of the provisions of the naturalization treaty recently concluded between North Germany and the United States, this Government has stayed all prosecutions against the adopted citizens of America of German birth. Those who have been sentenced or imprisoned will be released forthwith.

BERLIN, July 12.—At the trial of reaping machines of the world, which took place yesterday, the English reapers were decided to be superior to those of America, and took the international prize.

BRICK POMEROY;

His Views on Seymour and Blair.

The La Crosse Democrat of July 6th handles Seymour and Blair—who had not then received the Democratic nomination—without gloves. As the Democrat, edited by the notorious Brick Pomeroy, is a power in the Democratic party, having the largest circulation of any Democratic newspaper, it is of interest to know what it thinks of the Democratic candidates.

HIS VIEWS OF HORATIO SEYMOUR.

We noticed that Governor Seymour made a speech in New York City on the 25th of June, in which, the telegraph says, he "proceeded to reiterate his views formerly expressed on the financial question." What those views are, as contained in his Albany speech, our readers are fully informed—precisely those affirmed by the Jacobins at their Chicago Convention—gold for the bondholders, rags for the people.

It is well known that Governor Seymour is opposed to touching the financial question—wants to leave it stand as it is, all in favor of the bondholder and against the people—gold and no taxes to pay for the former, and rags, and all the taxes to pay for the latter.

With characteristic sophistry, he says that "our debt is not due until fifteen years from this time." Therefore, he says, its present discussion is useless—it is not a practical question.

Of the fearful consequences of following Gov. Seymour's advice we have heretofore expressed our views, and we now repeat them, on the eve of the great event which is to determine the destiny of the American people.

Gov. Seymour is trying to put the public mind asleep on the bond question and leave the plowholders to sweat, and stagger, and starve under the load of taxation, to pay the bondholders their semi-annual interest in gold, and their taxes in addition, by telling the country that the financial question should not be brought into the canvass this year, that everything is well enough as it is, if you will only make the country economize in its expenditures, and that a generation hence will be time enough to talk about the national debt.

It takes one hundred and twenty-five millions in gold—say one hundred and seventy-five millions in greenbacks, at the present depreciation—to pay the interest on the bonds. This load upon industry—this drain upon the resources of the plowholders—Gov. Seymour proposes to continue without change for a generation or more.

Why?

Because he has not courage to grapple with the question like a statesman and a patriot!

And because the bondholdrs have got him in their toils, and are using him to uphold their interests—

FRANK P. BLAIR, OLD BLAIR, AND THE BLAIRS GENERALLY.

It is reported that Montgomery Blair says that none of the candidates now prominently named will receive the Democratic nomination at New York, and that the party can only be united by bringing forward a new man—Exchange.

Such stuff as the above is more than Democratic nature can bear. To have one of that pestilent Blair family talking thus ocularly about the affairs of the Democratic party is the most impudent thing of the day.

What have the Blairs in common with the Democratic party? Old Blair has been virulently working against it, and doing it all the harm in his power, for more than twenty years, and during all this time—embracing the whole of their political lives—the young Blairs have been ready and active co-workers with their father in feeling his hate and ministering to his thirst of vengeance against the Democratic party.

They all contributed, to the extent of their ability, to widen the gulf and increase the bitterness between the North and South, which led to the late tremendous convulsions. They were in every movement for the promotion of sectional division and hostility, from the free soil defection, under the Van Burens, in 1846–7–8—mainly instigated and engineered by old Blair—until the election of Lincoln, and the inauguration of abolition diabolism in the Capitol of the Union.

One of the young Blairs, a member of Lincoln's Cabinet, the other, one of his military tools—the civilian damning himself forever as a public man, and placing an impassable barrier between himself and all true democratic fellowship, by a bold violation of law, an audacious defiance of the Constitution, in excluding from the mails all Democratic papers which conspicuously differed in opinion from the policy and measures of the Lincoln administration, and when respectfully asked by the parties aggrieved why, and by what authority, such action was taken against them, insolently answered, as would a petulent boy, when questioned why he had been guilty of certain miscondust "I did it because I had a mind to!"—and the military member of the Blair family, making his first demonstration in the field, by leading his regiment of brutal ruffians against the unarmed populace of St. Louis, indiscriminately shooting down in the crowded streets, men, women and children, murdering by wholesale an unoffending population, and committing a deed of cruelty blacker and more unpardonable than any of which the infamous Suwarrow was ever guilty, and, in contrast with which the acts of woman-whipping Haynau, whom the sturdy and indignant brewers of London so mercilessly hooted and pelted, appear decent and human.

And this he, too, did—"because he had a mind to."

And who does not remember that fine piece of political strategy—that charmingly pure and honorable bit of manœuvering between Lincoln and young Frank Blair, during the war, when the latter, while holding a general's commission in the army, got himself elected to Congress from St. Louis.

Frank wanted to get into the House and be Speaker. If he couldn't be Speaker, he wanted to remain a General. But he could not be a member of the House and a General both at the same time.

This had to be managed in some way. So, Frank and brother Montgomery, and Lincoln, and old man Blair, got together and set their wits at work to devise some way of getting along with it.

The result was eminently creditable to the purity and ingenuity of the parties concerned, and demonstrated that the Blair family will not voluntarily give up a good thing that they have in possession, without making sure of something better in exchange. So it was arranged that Frank should resign his general's commission and Lincoln should accept it, but not confer it on any one else, until it was seen whether or not Frank got the Speakership, and if he did not he was to have his commission back.

And so it was carried out. Frank did not become Speaker, and was re-instated in the army, furnishing an eminent example of the purity and patriotism that prevailed in those days, and for which the Blair family has already been so distinguished.

Thus were these younger Blairs the ready tools and co-workers of Lincoln and the Jacobin party during the whole process of the destruction of the grand fabric of free government which now lies in ruins around us, counseling the worst and all the measures which the destructionists introduced and carried out, and the elder Blair, like a spirit of evil, thrusting himself into the dark conclaves of the conspirators against public liberty, hissing out his venom against the Democratic party, and instigating the wastings and destroying of the South for grudges of well-nigh forty years standing, conceived and cherished because her leading men—Calhoun, McDuffie, Rowan, Bibb, Tazewell, Troup, Davis and others—always scorned him as a mercenary adventurer, and refused to recognize him in society.

It is this Blair family, whose history is thus truthfully sketched, which now claims position and voice in the Democratic party, and even assumes to dictate its nomination for the Presidency. In fact, it has the modesty to claim the nomination for one of its own members—the butcher of St. Louis—the nice young gentleman who so adroitly balanced between the Speakership and a Brigadier Generalship, and to whom Lincoln so kindly tossed the latter when the former was not to be cought.

Has the Democratic party fallen so low as to be used by such creatures? Is it so craven as to allow such fellows to say what it shall do or what it shall not do? One of these Blairs has the impudence to say that the party cannot be united on any one of the candidates already named—some new man must be taken up! Think of it! Look it over! O, the sublimity of this fellow's conceit! Where is Train? Send for Train! He only can match him.

The Democratic party cannot be united on any candidate already named! Good! Where did you learn all that Montgomery? By going to Silver Spring and consulting the old man; or sending out to St. Louis and asking brother Frank? Then the Blair family stands out against the nomination of any candidate already named! Of course, the Democratic party cannot be united then on any of these candidates! The Blair family "goes back" on these candidates! So the party cannot unite on any one of them! The party is not united without the Blairs! In fact, it is no party without the Blairs! Whew! What a big family! To use the expression of their late lamented master, "What a long tail our cat has got!"

But all this difficulty could be got over, if the Convention would unite the party by nominating General Frank. Then the party would be united, of course, for the Blair family would be satisfied! When they are satisfied the party is united! How simple! Why has not this been thought of before?

Now, gentlemen, enough of this. The Democratic party is united—united as never before, upon principles and a man! You know this full well, and all your efforts will avail nothing to defeat the people's will. In this great crisis you are of no account—you have no weight—you must stand aside and give place to the millions who are going to do the voting and elect the ticket, and will have it to suit them—or know the reason why!

This trifling with the people's will must stop. This cheating must have an end. The country has had enough of it, and its patience is exhausted. The public mind must not be provoked farther. There is a feeling growing up most threatening to certain conspicuous actions in the interest of the bondholders. Foul play is apprehended! If it be successfully consummated, prepare for the consequences. The people's wrath will be terrible, and they will take up their own cause, and battle for it under leaders of their own selection, and in whom they can trust. Drive them not to this. You will not if you be wise. But if, bent upon your own destruction, you provoke your fate, let it come. As sure as there is a God in heaven, the people shall not be betrayed with impunity. Liberty must be defended, truth vindicated, and justice and equality established, at whatever cost. We warn all who have entered into the conspiracy of the bondholders against the right, to look to their safety, while they may, and make harmony where they are threatening discord, and secure victory when they are plotting defeat. They are the only obstacle to Democratic harmony. They are disturbing it by endeavoring to make the majority of the party yield to the minority, and that minority most insignificant in numbers, and strong only in wealth, social position and political leadership. But the policy of the latter is identified with the anti-Democratic theories, and leads to certain defeat.

A CLEVER forgery was discovered in Fort Wayne certificates yesterday. A person who has been an outside operator on the street for some time, ordered the purchase of fifty shares of stock through a highly respectable firm connected with the New York Stock Exchange, requesting them to have it transferred into lots of five shares each, and certificates made out in their name, as he said the stock was purchased for a number of persons and he desired to deliver it in the name of a well-known house. Three of these certificates have appeared at the transfer office altered to one hundred shares each, and are so cleverly done that they would deceive any one but an expert, and there is but little doubt but that the other seven will appear before long. The same party purchased one hundred shares of Cleveland and Pittsburgh through another house, ordering certificates in ten share lots, in their name. Up to the present moment no certificates bearing the numbers on the certificates rendered have been presented at the transfer office of the Company.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE greenbacks are "obligations of the Government" which "do not expressly state upon their face," nor does "the law under which they were issued provide that that shall be paid in coin." According to the Democratic platform, therefore, they ought to be paid in greenbacks. Is the National Government, like Macawber—when it gives one note to take up another—to "thank God that debt is paid?"

THE LIFE OF A LEAF.

I. THE BUD.

Close within a downy cover
Here, at rest I lie,
Half awake and half in slumber,
While the storms go by.

Sometimes vague impatient strivings
Stir my life within;
Hopes of being something worthy,
Longing to begin.

Then again a soft contentment
Broodeth o'er my state;
When the time comes I am ready;
Until then I wait.

II. THE LEAFLET.

Is this then life? 'Tis glorious, so fair!
The soft sweet breezes playing round our nest,
The Summer fragrance growing everywhere,
The happy birds low cooing in their nest.

What meant the fear with which we put on life?
It is all good, and hopes comes after joy;
Come anything in this delightsome strife,
Storms cannot daunt us, sunshine cannot cloy.

III. SUMMER LEAF.

Kiss me, kiss me, kingly sun,
Till I glow with crimson light,
Till along my veins shall run
Liquid lustre glistening bright.

Let thy touch so piercing sweet
Hold me close and thrill me through,
Till I faint with languid heat,
Till for rest from thee I sue;
Hear me not, O King of light!
Let me die within thy sight.

IV. AUTUMN LEAF.

I wonder what has vanished from the world;
It was so bright a little while ago,
And now we leaves upon the branches curled
Hang wearily, just swaying to and fro.

The sun shines on, the cruel biting sun;
He will not vail one smile to ease our pain;
What matter that, so his great course is run?
The subjects suffer, but the king must reign,
We are too weary even to complain.

V. FALLEN.

The desperate clutch at the last weak hold
Grows looser and looser and looser;
The dizzying leap into depths untold
Comes closer and closer and closer.

Quivering, shivering,
Drawn from below,
Where shall we vanish to?
How shall we go?

Leaving the upper air,
Heaviness everywhere,
Fallen on dull despair
Here we lie low.

VI. ASLEEP.

Let me sleep, it is so sweet to slumber—
All of sweetness that remaineth still;
Swift the drenching rains and frosts of Winter
Rid the earth of worn out things of ill.

It may be some good there was within us
May survive the discipline of pain;
May not die, but change its outward substance;
May revive in other leaves again.

—The citizens of South Bend, Ind., and the surrounding country are making preparations for a grand celebration at the former place in order to appropriately welcome Hon. Schuyler Colfax when he returns from Washington.

—There were forty deaths in St. Louis on Monday last. From the earnest manner in which the journals enforce the fact that there is no cholera in that city, we incline to the belief that the dread pestilence has made its appearance there.

—A hen-pecked husband hands us the following epigram, a translation from an old Greek poet, who evidently knew how to be severe and caustic:

Two happy days in marriage life allowed—
A wife in her wedding garb and in her shroud.
Sure, then, that state cannot be called accursed,
Where the last day's as happy as the first.

—The veritable Timothy Finnigan, a laborer on the Union Pacific Railway, recently died, and from the number of men off duty the day following the demise, the boss entered on his record that "there must have been lots of fun at Tim Finnegin's wake." History repeats itself.

—A well dressed woman entered a house in St. Louis and drawing a great knife demanded from the frightened lady money. The latter hastily seized a shot gun which was convenient to her, and leveled it at the female footpad. It is unnecssary to say the thief made a rapid retreat.

—A Mrs. Wade, of Dayton, Ohio, about one year ago presented her husband with three heavy, bouncing boy babies. Last week she again honored him with two of the same sort. Five children inside of one year may please Mr. Wade, but most other folks would not relish the joke.

—A case of maternal heroism is made public. Mrs. McArdle has just been released from the Iowa penitentiary, where she has passed four years of a sentence for life. She confessed to the murder of her husband. It has been ascertained that she so confessed in order to save her son, who alone was guilty, from punishment.

—Samuel Lover, the Irish author who has contributed so largely towards supplying the world much to laugh at in such works as "Rory O'More," "Handy Andy," and like productions, died in Dublin recently at the age of seventy-one years. Mr. Lover was small in stature, genial and companionable, full of song and mirth, and the productions from his humorous pen will survive him many years.

Pianos.

Schroter, one of the many to whom is ascribed the invention of the piano-forte, published an account of the instrument in 1768, in which he says the performer may "at pleasure play fort (loud), or piano (soft);" and the present name is believed to have been suggested by this statement. The piano-fort is really a harp, operated by machinery instead of the direct action of the fingers. At first it was very simple; but additions and improvements were made from time to time, until its present state of perfection was reached. The following from Oliver Optic's Our Boy's and Girl's Magazine is interesting:

The piano should be closed when not in use, in order to prevent the collection of dust, &c., on the sound-board, and also to preserve the strings and "action" from the ill effects of sudden change of temperature. Nothing can injure a piano so much as extreme heat, whether arising from a bright fire in front of it, or, what is worse, the hot air in the furnaces in such general use. Care should be taken to prevent moisture of any kind from getting between the keys, particularly when cleaning them, as it will cause them to stick. Moths are destructive to pianos and should be kept out of them by placing a lump of camphor, wrapped in paper to prevent evaporation in the inside corner. Any hard substance placed upon a piano will cause a jarring noise, and if the top part is unprotected by a cloth cover, that also will often rattle. Young pianists would injure the piano less if they would refrain from striking the keys with such force; a little touch, with a judicious use of the loud pedal, will yield a far better and equally as full a tone as if they exerted all the force at their command.

Few are aware of the benefit to be derived from having their pianos regularly tuned and kept in ordor; every new piano should be tuned at least once a month, and none should be allowed to remain untuned over three. When a piano is half a note below concert pitch, and it is required to be drawn up, it should be twice tuned, the second tuning about a month after the first, or it will not stand well in tune.

It would be well to remember that the tuning of a piano consists only of tightening and relaxing the strings to the requisite degree.

It is a striking fact that the dying never weep. The circle of sobbing, agonizing hearts around produces not a tear. Is it that he is insensible and stiff already in the chill of dissolution? That cannot be, for he asks for his father's hand, as if to gain strength in the mental struggle, and leans on the breast of a mother, brother, or sister, with still conscious affection; and just before expiration, at eve, after a long day's converse with the angel of summer, he says to his oldest brother the last audible "good-night" of earth—"Kiss me, kiss—." It must be because the dying have reached a point too deep for our earthly crying and weeping. They are face to face with higher and holier things—with the Father in heaven and his angel throng, led on by the Son himself, and what are griefs of mourning, terrors of a dying farewell, be it that they are shed by the dearest on earth, in that vision bright of immortal life and everlasting re-union.

FOR SALE.—REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE.

500 ACRES OF WHITE PINE AND HEMLOCK TIMBER LAND, situated on Black Lick Creek, Budlington township, Indiana county, Pa., 9 miles from Ninevah Station, on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and about 60 acres of cleared land, under good fencing. On the premises are erected one Grist Mill, with 2 run of burrs and 1 run of stones, all complete and in good running order. One Saw Mill, in complete order, cutting 3,000 feet per day.

One dwelling house, two stories high, with 11 rooms, 40x42 feet.
One dwelling, 28x40 feet, 8 rooms.
One " 18x26 " 2 "
One " 18x26 " 4 "
One " 18x26 " 4 "

One Stable, 20x24 feet, 16 feet high; Blacksmith Shop and other outbuildings. This land is underlaid with stone coal and iron ore, and it has plenty of never-failing springs of water, besides the creek running through the entire premises, and will be sold cheap and on easy terms, to a good man with little money.

10 LOTS ON BEDFORD AVENUE, each lot 20 by 100 feet, on which is erected four two-story frame dwelling houses, of 6 rooms and hall each. These lots embrace a full square of ground, fronting 200 feet on Bedford avenue, and bounded on each end by a wide street, with an 18 feet alley in the rear. On the premises is a pump of lasting and excellent water, and the surface of the lots is level and needs neither filling nor grading to prepare them for building purposes, and being in a section of the city where property is increasing very rapidly in value, make them desirable for an investment, especially as the present houses rent for enough to pay a good interest on the sum asked for the whole proper y. Call soon on the undersigned and secure a cheap, safe and paying investment.

Also, A FARM OF 160 ACRES of good land situated in East Wheatfield township, Indiana Co Pa., 90 acres of which is cleared land, in good cultivation, 20 acres being in excellent meadow. The improvements are a two-story frame dwelling house of 8 rooms, a frame bank barn, 36x60 feet, with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings, all in good repair. It is in a good neighborhood, convenient to schools, churches, stores, &c.. and will be sold very low for cash or approved securities.

Also, a RIVER BOTTOM FARM of 76 acres, 1 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, on the half mile from Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 100 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard of 130 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gearing, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 158 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagon shed and other outbuildings. The whole farm under a high state of cultivation; fencing all in first rate order, and the land of the best quality of limestone soil, about 200 acres of which is cleared and the residue of the tract in good timber, such as white oak, rock oak, hickory, walnut and beech. This property will be sold very cheap and on easy terms, as the owner wishes to engage in other business. For particulars enquire of REMARKS.

The discovery of further frauds in the shape of altered railway certificates was the chief feature of the Stock Exchange. The frauds so far discovered are on the Fort Wayne, Rock Island, Pittsburgh, New York Central, Erie, Michigan Southern and Pacific Mail Companies, and it is feared the movement extends to other stocks. The extent of these forgeries cannot yet be ascertained, but the aggregate is likely to be from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Rumors are current of the failure of a Broad street firm through the purchase of spurious certificates from the absconded forger.

RIVER NEWS.

The Belle has been chartered for the Parkersburg and Wheeling trade.

The America left Cincinnati for St. Louis on Thursday evening. Pilots, Adam Poe and James Clark.

—Vogel, a German Radical candidate, was elected harbor master, at St. Louis the other day. The vote cast was very small.

—The local inspectors have suspened the license of pilot John N. Littrell for thirty days, for violation of rule No. 8 for the government of pilots, causing the collision between the steamers Falls City and Norman at the foot of the Louisville and Portland canal, July 7, 1868.

—A St. Louis dispatch, under date of Thursday, says: The Yorktown left for Cincinnati last night. The Charmer leaves to-day and Ida Rees to-morrow for the Ohio. The Importer made the trip to Fort Benton and return in sixty-one days, the quickest trip this season.

—The People of Three Forks, Texas, seem to be in earnest in regard to navigating the Trinity. Two boats are being built at that place intended for the fall trade. The timbers of one are nearly ready to be placed in position to frame a boat 80 feet long, 20 feet wide, capable of carrying 250 bales of cotton, and with steam power sufficent to run her ten miles an hour. Four boats will ply between Galveston and Dallas this winter, if the freights will justify.

—The Scientific American says: The fastest time, to the best of our knowledge, ever made by a steamboat, was the late run of the Daniel Drew, from Yonkers to this city (New York,) a distance of fourteen and a half miles, in thirty-four minutes and forty-five seconds, or at a rate of over twenty-five miles per hour.

—The United States snagboat General DeRussy is in the Missouri still, near Portland. Tennyson, her pilot, wrote last Sunday, as follows: People here are very much troubled about the long continued dry weather; it will shorten the grape crop considerably. The DeRussy has not been repulsed yet; the snags seem to understand that she is irresistable and succumb cheerfully to the inevitable fate awaiting them. An enterprising individual might make a fortune by following in the DeRussy's wake and gather up the saw logs as we cut them adrift; we have set some beautiful timber afloat in that way. The stumps we drop out of reach of all passing steamers.

River and Weather.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

LOUISVILLE, July 11.—River about stationery, with four feet in canal. Weather very hot.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Weather cloudy; indications of rain.

Deposits received of all sums of not less than ONE DOLLAR, and a dividend of the profits declared twice a year, in June and December. Interest has been declared semi-annually in June and December since the Bank was organized, at the rate of six per cent. a year.

Interest, if not drawn out, is placed to the credit of the depositor as principal, and bears the same interest from the 1st days of June and December, compounding twice a year without troubling the depositor to call, or even to present his pass book. At this rate money will double in less than twelve years.

Books containing the Charter, By-Laws, Rules and Regulations, furnished gratis, on application at the office.

GOLD closed in New York on Saturday at 1 41⅛.

ALL of SEWARD'S intimate friends have come out for GRANT. They have no idea of being on the losing side.

A DEMOCRATIC PAPER in this city has out on its flag "SEYMOUR and the Constitution." Have they dropped BLAIR already?

BRICK POMEROY speaks of SEYMOUR and BLAIR with refreshing freedom and unction, as all may see by reading his invective, which we copy elsewhere.

THE division in the Republican ranks, at Philadelphia, will soon be closed by the withdrawal of both MANN and HAZLEHURST, the rival candidates for District Attorney.

THE President has proclaimed the reconstruction of North Carolina, in conformity to law. While the Democrats grumble and declaim, the work of restoring the Union goes on to completion.

EVERYWHERE throughout the country the Republicans are inspired with the assurance of victory. The nominations of SEYMOUR and BLAIR have changed their hopes of success into certainty.

COL. WM. B. MANN, of Philadelphia, and the Hon. A. K. MCCLURE, of Chambersburg, Pa., have associated themselves in the practice of law in Philadelphia, and will open an office on Sixth street.

BLAIR is in favor of overthrowing the governments formed in every Southern State. He is for Nullification first and Revolution afterwards. His election means another war, to bring back things as they stood in 1860.

SEYMOUR is the embodiment of Democratic hates and prejudices. He represents fully the sentiment that opposed and obstructed the war throughout, and has done everything possible to prevent reconstruction since.

THE CHASE CLUB, of the city of New York, composed of Conservative Republicans and dissatisfied Democrats, have formally indorsed the nomination of GRANT and COLFAX. This may be taken as one of the straws which indicate the set of the political mind.

IN 1861 Mr. SEYMOUR declared that "successful coercion would be as revolutionary as Secession." His conduct throughout the great struggle was in accordance with that opinion. The men who saved the Union want no such man to administer the Government.

THE nomination of SEYMOUR and BLAIR has plunged the Democrats into the depths of despondency. No cheers; no firing of cannons, welcome the candidates. Nor will time work any ameliorations of this depression of spirits, but only serve to make it more profound.

THE speech of Mr. FRANK P. BLAIR in New York on Saturday night, which we publish elsewhere, cost the Democratic party one thousand votes in Allegheny County and fifty thousand in the State. By all means, gentlemen, help GRANT along by putting BLAIR on the stump.

MR. BLAIR'S letter, given elsewhere in these columns, was not the product of an over-dose of whisky or of a temporary ebullition of temper. After being nominated he made a speech in the same vein, at New York, of which we give a telegraphic report. Few soldiers who served in defence of the old flag will be found willing to vote for him, after perusing these documents.

WE have heretofore spoken in strong terms of the revolutionary letter, written last month by Mr. BLAIR, the Democratic candidate for Vice President, and which ensured his nomination. As part of his current political history, it will repay a careful perusal. It reflects more perfectly than any other recent document the real feelings and intentions of a very large majority of the Democrats.

CONGRESS, by strong votes in each of the Houses, has passed a law providing that none of the Southern States shall participate in the approaching presidential election, except such as shall previously have reconstructed their governments.

THE telegraph brings us no tidings of bonfires, firing of guns and illuminations over SEYMOUR'S nomination. These are the usual concomitants of Democratic National nominations; but the party feels too much depressed, just now, to burn gunpowder or anything else over such candidates.

THE decrees of fate, for once, have been reversed. The Republic, of Thursday last, announced that the nomination of ANDREW JOHNSON was that day as certain as the decrees of fate. As he did not get a vote, that day, and SEYMOUR was nominated in his stead, Fate must have reconsidered her decrees between sunrise and noon of that day.

CHASE, by giving his influence in favor of JOHNSON'S acquittal, got half a vote for President in the Democratic National Convention; BLAIR, by writing a letter in favor of Nullification and Revolution, got the nomination for Vice President from the same Convention. The Chief Justice, it seems, was only half a renegade, while BLAIR went the whole figure.

THE ALLEGHENY VALLEY RAILROAD COMPANY was never in a more flourishing condition than at the present time. The receipts from freights and passengers are daily on the increase, while the running expenses are rapidly being reduced. Through the close application, perseverance and industry of its worthy President, Col. WILLIAM PHILLIPS this important road has surmounted all obstacles and its future opens more brilliant than ever.

THE Democrats stand pledged, by the action of their National Convention, to tax all property equally. From this standpoint, it is not difficult to determine what they mean by insisting that National bonds shall be taxed. If they tax the bonds, they must, in order to be consistent, tax all kinds of real estate, including farms, and at the same valuation and rate as they tax bonds. We apprehend the agricultural Democrats are not prepared to take so much Democracy as that.

THE New York Post having denounced Mr. MOORHEAD'S tariff bill as intended robbery—as designed to "increase the already onerous and wicked duties on iron"—the Iron Age calls attention to the fact that pig, bar and rail iron—which constitute the bulk of the production—are entirely untouched by the bill.

The Iron Age ought to know by this time that the Post is always reckless and untrustworthy in statements touching the manufacture of iron in this country.

THE "PENDLETON ESCORT" went through this city, on its way to New York, boldly, in the day time, with flags flying and music playing, and the local Democratic Committee of Arrangements riding in a hack in front. It sneaked back, at midnight, without noise or parade, unwelcomed by the local Committee, and without the firing of a gun to announce their arrival.

"Not a sound was heard, nor a funeral note,
As his corpse to the ramparts they hurried."

The local Committee might at least have played the Dead March in Saul for them as they passed on their cheerless way.

THERE has been subscribed towards the capital stock of the Chartiers' Valley Railroad the sum of $250,000. Originally the owners of the road made the proposition to complete it, providing those interested would subscribe $300,000 to the stock. It is thought that the amount subscribed will be accepted in lieu of that required, and a Committee will leave the city to-day to consult on the subject with J. EDGAR THOMPSON, Esq., President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It is highly probable that the work of completing the road will commence within a comparatively short time.

WE MENTIONED recently the contraction of the gauge on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad. The adjustment of the quarrel about the Erie Railway was made, in part, to hinge upon the laying down of a third rail, so that all the new rolling stock may be of narrow gauge, and when the old stock is worn out the broad guage to be abandoned.

This will prove the end of wide gauge railways in this country. It costs at least ten per cent. more to stock a wide road than a narrow, and ten per cent. more to run one when stocked. This difference makes it impossible for a wide road to compete with a narrow one in carrying either passengers or merchandise.

GOV. GEARY has been urged, from various quarters, to call an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of amending the Registry Law, so as to make it conform with the recent decision of the Supreme Court. There are two objections to taking this course, either of which ought to be conclusive:

1. The October election is so close at hand that the Legislature cannot be convened, and the law duly considered and altered, in time to have it properly disseminated and carried into effect. 2. No matter how carefully the law might be altered to make it conform to the judgment of the Court already pronounced, the revised law would speedily be brought up for fresh review, and the Judges would readily find pretexts for another decision against its constitutionality.

Judges are the most irresponsible of all public functionaries, and when inclined to do a wrong, or to sustain one done by others, easily manage to gild the misdeed by platitudes about the Constitution, venerable precedents, equity, natural rights, and what not.

We hold it better, therefore, not to call an extra session, but to wait till the Legislature shall meet in regular session next winter.

THAT CALL.

The friends of Mr. BURTT, a very worthy school teacher, who aspires to something beyond the humble position of the class-room, for which, we dare say, he is eminently qualified, have been working zealously during the past six weeks in obtaining signatures to a requisition upon him to become the "Independent Workingmen's and Citizens' candidate for Congress." The document, so long promised, and about which much was said to mislead Republicans as to the numerical strength and political standing of its signers, was spread before the public yesterday in the columns of the Sunday Leader. We were snrprised at its weakness. Only some one hundred and eighty names were appended, although the customary gag—"and fifteen hundred others"—was pinned to the tail-end of the requisition. Having leisure we made a careful analysis of the names appended, and found not a dozen which will carry any weight with them in this community, and the overwhelming preponderance of Democratic names developed in no unmistakeable manner the strength and popularity of the gallant NEGLEY in the ranks of his own party. Ostensibly the call emanates from the workingmen, but there is to be observed a woful deficiency of names belonging to the leading and intelligent citizens who have hitherto been identified with the cause of labor reform. Workingmen are no longer to be duped into the support of political tricksters who sympathize and affiliate with them only so far as to secure place and position, and besides, the class of men to which Mr. BURTT belongs cannot be reckoned in the laboring element any more, if as much, as the editors of newspapers, lawyers, doctors, manufacturers and merchants. The time is past for such political trickery. The workingmen have found their way back into the old lines, and instead of setting themselves up as a distinct organization will make their influence all the more powerful by coöperating with and helping to make up the ranks of the two great political parties.

Mr. BURTT accepts the "invitation," and with due dignity proceeds to inform his one hundred and eighty friends and "fifteen hundred others," of his views on the national debt, the army and navy, public lands and other leading questions, adopting the ideas of Gen. SAM. CAREY and filling in with "taking talk" intended for the workingmen alone.

It is highly probable that the Democrats will unite on Mr. BURTT and place him in nomination against Gen. NEGLEY, for whose defeat they would move mountains, as his known patriotism and fidelity to Republican principles render him especially obnoxious to that class of our citizens. How the slate may be made up is of little moment, as no combination or species of sharp political trickery can prevent the Republican party from sending General NEGLEY to Congress, and that, too, by an overwhelming majority.

CONSERVATISM is having a rough time in England, but acts like itself in shutting its eyes and refusing to see the inevitable end of the pending controversy respecting the disestablishment of the Irish Church.

Of course, the real dispute lies far back of that question, involving it only as it does many others, and giving it conspicuity simply because in the progress of the general discussion the time has arrived to begin an actual movement against the principle of establishing religion by law. Under such circumstances it could not be otherwise than that the doomed system should be assaulted where it was most indefensible. Whoever concludes it will not be attacked elsewhere generalizes from so small and ill-assorted a collection of facts as to entitle his judgment to no weight whatever. They who have carefully observed the current of English thoughts, during the last quarter of a century, as disclosed in monthlies and quarterlies of the higher grade, and in books of the more recondite sorts, have no difficulty in determining whence the assault upon the Irish Church comes, what it means and portends, with what auxiliary movements it stands related, and what the upshot of the whole will be.

The motions of a snake begin with the head. It is precisely so with human society. The discussion and application of principles begin at the top, with a limited class of select and powerful thinkers. The problems they deal with to-day, will be the topics uppermost with the masses ten or twenty years hence. It is always so, and by virtue of a law never to be successfully resisted; the head is pre-ordained to govern all other members.

Monarchy received its death-wound in England long ago, though it knew it not, because it took the sentiment of federal loyalty to particular families a long while to wear out. Even yet it is not entirely extinct. It has still considerable vitality among the peasantry. But, just in proportion as that sentiment is weakened, the life of monarchy decays. England really raised from under knightly rule, in all but the name, years ago. The power of Parliament is greater than that of the Queen; but that is organized oligarchically; not democratically. It cannot long remain so, and that is what the present popular movement, watched with deepest solicitude from this side of the Atlantic, really signifies.

The chief props of monarchy throughout christendom are the church establishments, and they must be prostrated. When they shall be no more, all the rest will be comparatively easy.

THE men who undertook the management of the New York Convention assumed a delicate and difficult task, and executed it with consummate ability and tact, playing one set of delegates against another until the moment arrived for disclosing their own purpose, when they executed it with unflinching energy and success.

It seems probable that these managers had and have no expectation of carrying the election. They see, feel and acknowledge that all the important issues of the last twenty years are decided irrevocably against the Democratic party, and that this could not be without entailing upon it a degree of popular odium that makes the chances hopeless for some time to come.

So circumstanced their aim appears to have been to choose such candidates and avow such doctrines as would best tend to keep the party together until fresh questions shall arise of such magnitude as to cast existing ones into the background, and enable the Democrats to take a new start.

In addition to this advantage the policy of the managers has another. It affords them an opportunity for maintaining their local organizations, which a different method of treatment would not have left them.

MR. HENRY SEYMOUR, the father of the present Democratic candidate for President, was for some years a Canal Commissioner of the State of New York. About 1836, while holding that office, he committed suicide, in the basement of his dwelling at Utica—the same now occupied by his eminent son—by shooting himself with a pistol. Immediately the impression obtained currency that his fiducial accounts were in an unsatisfactory condition; in plain words, that he was a defaulter. An examination showed his official accounts to be correct in every particular, and his private affairs to be altogether prosperous. He fell by his own hand, a victim of an overtaxed brain, as many another man did before him and has since.

This, we think, is the only case of insanity in the family. Neither HORATIO, nor his brother, JOHN F., nor his two sisters, (the youngest of whom is the wife of the Hon. ROSCOE CONKLING, a Republican member of the United States Senate,) have given the slightest indications of inheriting the malady. The story to that effect, which has obtained currency, was coined by a reckless Bohemian, connected with a Western journal.

MR. HORATIO SEYMOUR'S career, as a public man, affords a striking verification of the truth of what Lord CHESTERFIELD said to his son, PHILIP STANHOPE—"Eloquence and good breeding alone, with an exceeding small degree of parts and knowledge, will carry a man a great way." His Lordship proceeded to show why this was so—"The elegancy of the style, and the turns of the periods, make the chief impression on hearers. Give them but one or two round and harmonious periods in a speech, which they will retain and repeat, and they will go home as well satisfied as people do from an opera, humming all the way one or two favorite tunes that have struck their ears and are most easily caught. Most people have ears, but few have judgments; tickle their ears, and depend upon it you will catch their judgments, such as they are."

Mr. SEYMOUR has no touch or quality of greatness in him. Of comely presence, graceful education, polished manners, a fluent delivery, and unexceptionable morals, he has made his way, not by force of understanding, or imagination, or reason, but by a pleasing address and an unfailing plausibility.

A CONSIDERABLE body of voters commonly remain undecided to which party they will attach themselves until a Presidential canvass is fairly opened by the selection of candidates and the declaration of principles. Frequently this class is very large. In that contingency, if they ultimately divide about equally, the result is involved in doubt up to the last moment; if they take one direction, with comparative unanimity, their action settles the issue in advance.

If any uncertainty had rested, from the beginning, upon the prospects of GRANT and COLFAX—which we do not believe—it would have been removed by the movement among the doubtful voters which has been witnessed during the last few days. They show distinct signs of going, almost in a body, for the Chicago nominees. Doubtless the Democratic leaders note this march and understand what it portends.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Bishop Thomson, in an address to the candidates for ordination, at the late session of the East Maine Conference, said: Beware of any imprudence in your intercourse with families. We are admitted at all hours with a sublime confidence. Let it be rewarded with a sublime purity. A minister guilty of impurity is guilty of a conglomeration of sins, fraud, dishonesty, hypocrisy, etc. In preaching, beware of using other men's sermons. This stultifies the intellect, impairs the conscience and the reputation. Avoid volumes of skeletons. The man who settles down with a stock of one hundred and fifty sermons, and says I can get along now without mental labor this year, is poor all the year, and cannot grow. Every minister ought to write a good sermon each week, but not to use them till he can well extemporize.

The grand hymn, beginning, "Rock of Ages cleft for me," is generally believed to be the production of Toplady. Facts have been ascertained, on good and reliable authority, that it was written by Charles Wesley.

The consecration of the Catholic Bishop elect of the Diocese of Erie, having been authorized by the Pope, the ceremony will be performed in St. Paul's Cathedral in this city, on the 2d of August.

As people are apt to get "sleepy in meeting," the following remedy is suggested and warranted to cure the worst chronic cases: Take a horse-radish root of good size to the sanctuary, and the moment the sermon begins, put a piece in your mouth of the size of a common acorn, bite and moisten it faithfully with the saliva, and the eyes will not only be easily kept open, but a tearful attention may also be promoted, to the exclusion of all drowsiness till the sermon ends. Try it, sleepy hearers!

Stingy Church members sometimes make the plea for not giving to the missionary cause, that it takes so much of each dollar to send the money to foreign missions. The Missionary Herald pronounces the statement a malicious untruth, and demonstrates that for the first fifty years of the American Board, the entire expense of collecting and disbursing, including the cost of publications given away in order to inform the churches of the work, was only about six and a half per cent. It is a little more now in consequence of increased expenses of living.

Two new Presbyteries have been erected in the far West, the Presbytery of Sante Fe, in New Mexico, and the Presbytery of Colorado, in the territory of that name.

The volume of sermons, "The Gospel in the Trees," embracing several discourses delivered by Rev. Alexander Clark, pastor of the First Methodist (Protestant) church of this city, has been favorably noticed by the press generally. We have not been favored with a copy and therefore must take the criticisms of others. The New York Christian Advocate, while it commends the style and the lessons inculcated, thinks that one who contemplates the world of mankind as involved in a fearful and fatal ruin, which only the mighty power of the Gospel is sufficient to reverse, is tempted to impatience at seeing what purports to be the preaching of the Gospel used for any other than that purpose, specifically and earnestly.

Rev. A. N. Fisher, of the Nevada M. E. Conference a elegate to the late General Conference, on his return spent a Sabbath at Salt Lake City. In consequence of his acquaintance with some of the officials, he was invited to preach in the great Mormon Temple, which he accepted. Nearly six thousand persons, mainly Mormons, including the elders and leaders, crowded the edifice, attracted by the novel announcement that a "Gentile" was to preach.

According to a late financial exhibit of the Protestant Episcopal General Theological Seminary, the value of its real estate, not including the Seminary lots, but those leased for business purposes, amounts to $253,000; personal property in bonds and mortgages and cash $350,563; total $603,563. The estimated expenses for 1868-9 are $17,300; estimated income $15,100. Rev. Francis Vinton, D.D., has been nominated by Miss Ludlow as incumbent of the professorship recently endowed by her.

The pastor and session of the Fifth United Presbyterian church of this city reported at a late meeting of the Monongahela Presbytery, that the Mission in the Eighth ward, Pittsburgh, had been organized and the congregation will be known as the Eighth church, Pittsburgh. Thirty-five members were received, sixteen by examination and profession, and nineteen by certificate.

Reference has already been made to the jubilee meeting of the Episcopal Diocesan Convention of Ohio, since which we gather from its proceedings that the first Convention, held at Worthington fifty years ago, embraced but four clergymen. Now, there are one hundred clergymen engaged in the several fields of labor. The annual address of the Bishops indicated a very healthy state of the Church.

The Second Adventists have again fixed the time for the long-looked-for period of the second coming of the Savior, namely, the 2d of October next.

The action of the following Old School Presbyteries, in favor of the basis of union of the Old and New School, are important at this time: Presbytery of Troy unanimously approved the terms of union. The Presbytery of Albany approved by a vote of—yeas, 42; nays, 1. Carlisle Presbytery, the largest in the Synod of Baltimore, almost a unanimous vote.

At the late session of the Ohio Congregational Conference of Painesville, a resolution was passed disapproving of Masonry, but refused to recommend the exclusion of Masons from the Church. The subject of Masonry and secret societies was earnestly debated.

Elder Knapp, the noted Baptist revival preacher, held a farewell meeting at San Francisco, where he had been laboring for some time. At the close of his address, the young converts presented themselves to the number of one hundred and seventy. The elder gave the hand of fellowship to each of them, with a word of counsel and encouragement.

At the late Methodist General Conference, the rule was fixed for future action that rebaptism, whether baptized in infancy or adult age, is entirely inconsistent with the nature and design of baptism as set forth in the New Testatment.

The Memorial Church, just erected by the Lutherans at Washington City, occupies a central and commanding position. The Church is spacious and elegant, and the Sunday School room is said to be one of the most commodious in the country.

An official meeting of the Free Will Baptist in Wisconsin adopted a resolution that the raising of hops, to be used in the manufacture of beer, is an evil, and as such, should be condemned by all Christians everywhere.

At the laying of the corner stone of the new Jewish Temple, on Broadway, Cincinnati, one of the speakers referred to the restoration of the Jews to Palestine as an obsolete idea.

General Blair's Letter.

WASHINGTON, June 30, 1868.

Colonel James O. Broadhead:

DEAR COLONEL:—In reply to your inquiries, I beg leave to say that I leave to you to determine, on consultation with my friends from Missouri, whether my name shall be presented to the Democratic Convention, and to submit the following as what I consider the real and only issue in this contest:

The reconstruction policy of the Radicals will be complete before the next election; the States so long excluded will have been admitted; negro suffrage established, and carpet-baggers installed in their seats in both branches of Congress. There is no possibility of changing the political character of the Senate, even if the Democrats should elect their President and a majority of the popular branch of Congress. We cannot, therefore, undo the Radical plan of reconstruction by Congressional action; the Senate will continue a bar to its repeal. Must we submit to it? How can we overthrow? It can only be overthrown by the authority of the Executive, who is sworn to maintain the Constitution, and who will fail to do his duty if he allows the Constitution to perish under a series of Congressional enactments which are in palpable violation of its fundamental principles.

If the President elected by the Democracy enforces or permits others to enforce these reconstruction acts, the Radicals, by the accession of twenty spurious Senators and fifty Representatives, will control both branches of Congress, and his Administration will be as powerless as the present one of Mr. Johnson.

There is but one way to restore the Government and the Constitution, and that is for the President elect to declare these acts null and void, compel the army to undo its usurpations at the South, disperse the carpet-bag State governments, and allow the white people to reorganize their own governments and elect Senators and Representatives. The House of Representatives will contain a majority of Democrats from the North, and they will admit the Representatives elected by the white people of the South, and with the co-operation of the President it will be difficult to compel the Senate to submit once more to the obligations of the Constitution. It will not be able to withstand the public judgment, if distictly invoked and clearly expressed, on this fundamental issue, and it is the sure way to avoid all future strife to put this issue plainly to the country.

I repeat that this is the real and only question which we should allow to control us: Shall we submit to the usurpations by which the Government was overthrown, or shall we exert ourselves for its full and complete restoration? It is idle to talk of bonds, greenbacks, gold, the public faith, and the public credit. What can a Democratic President do in regard to any of these with a Congress in both branches controlled by the carpet-baggers and their allies? He will be powerless to stop the supplies by which idle negroes are organized into political clubs—by which an army is maintained to protect these vagabonds in their outrages upon the ballot. These, and things like these, eat up the revenues and resources of the Government and destroy its credit—make the difference between gold and greenbacks. We must restore the Constitution before we can restore the finances, and to do this we must have a President who will execute the will of the people by trampling into dust the usurpations of Congress known as the reconstruction acts. I wish to stand before the Convention upon this issue, as it is one which embraces everything else that is of value in its large and comprehensive results. It is the one thing that includes all that is worth a contest, and without it there is nothing that gives dignity, honor or value to the struggle. Your friend.

FRANK P. BLAIR.

GOV. GEARY has declined to call an extra session of the Legislature. The following is a letter from him on the subject:

PENNSYLVANIA EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, HARRISBURG, PA. July 11th, 1868.—Hon. L. D. Shoemaker, Wilkesbarre, Pa.:—Dear Sir: Your letter of the 7th instant, and numerous others on the same subject, are duly received, some suggesting and others opposing an extra session of the Legislature, in consequence of the recent decision of the Supreme Court against the constitutionality of the Registry Law. I very much regret that decision, annulling an act affecting the purity of the ballot-box, which I regard above all price; but after a most careful examination of the reasons for and against the proposed action, I feel constrained to decline calling an extra session. The election laws remain substantially the same as for years past, and in my judgment the facts do not present such an extraordinary occasion as is contemplated by the Constitution. Truly yours, (Signed) JNO. W. GEARY.

DO NOT BE DECEIVED.

When the system is once affected it will not rally of its own accord; it needs help—it must be strengthened and invigorated; this is especially the case when the

KIDNEYS, BLADDER OR URINARY ORGANS

Are affected. For immediate relief and permanent cure,

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Are a perfectly safe and reliable specific. This well known remedy has effected a large number of speedy and remarkable cures, and have never failed to give relief when taken according to directions.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Are purely vegetable, and contain no mercury or calomel. They do not exhaust the system, but on the contrary they act as a tonic, imparting new tone and vigor to the organs and strengthening the whole body. These Pills have stood the test of thirty-five years, and are still gaining in popularity.

SECURE HEALTH IN ADVANCE.

It is as difficult to extinguish a raging fever as a raging fire; but you can prevent a conflagration by rendering your dwelling fire-proof, and you can prevent an attack of fever by invigorating and purifying your "house of clay."

The outside pressure" upon the constitution and the vital powers at this season is tremendous. Every pore of the millions which cover the surface of the body is a drain upon its substance and its strength. To meet this depletion, to keep up the stamina under such a constant outflow of dissolving flesh, a tonic and invigorant is absolutely necessary, and time, that tries all things, has proved that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS impart a degree of strength and resistant power to the over-taxed vital forces, which is unattainable by any other known means. The effect of this inestimable vegetable preparation is to increase the appetite, accelerate digestion, tone the secretive organs, give firmness to the nerves, purify the blood, cheer the spirits, and, by thus rallying all the forces of the body, enable it to defy the enervating influence of the heat, and pass triumphantly through the trying ordeal of the summer months. As a safeguard against epidemics, and a preventive of the feebleness, lassitude and prostration, of which so many thousands complain at this season, it has a national reputation founded on twenty-five years of uninterrupted and unequalled success.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

PROPOSALS FOR PAPER.

A SUPPLEMENT to an act requiring the Superintendent of Public Printing to advertise for proposals for supplying the State with printing and bill paper, approved April tenth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That hereafter the person or persons bidding for the contract for furnishing the State with paper, as provided in the act approved April tenth, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, be required to execute a bond to the Commonwealth, with at least two sufficient sureties, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract so allotted, which said bond shall be approved by the President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the district or districts in which such sureties may reside; or in case of the absence or other inability of such President Judge, by the Associate Judge of the county in which such sureties may reside; Provided, That the bonds, with the sureties of the several bidders, shall be duly executed, sealed up and delivered with the proposals for furnishing said paper, and in addition to the condition above required, shall be conditioned that in case the bidder or bidders to whom the said contract shall be awarded shall neglect or refuse to accept the same at his or their bid, the said bidder or bidders, with his or their sureties aforesaid, shall be liable to the Commonwealth for the difference between the amount of the bid of the person to whom the said contract shall be awarded after such neglect or refusal; And provided further, That the Superintendent of Public Printing shall award said contract upon the same day the bids are by him opened.
ELISHA W. DAVIS,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
JAMES L. GRAHAM,
Speaker of the Senate.
APPROVED—The tenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.
JOHN W. GEARY.

TO PAPER MANUFACTURERS.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of the Superintendent of Public Printing, for Supplying the State with Printing Paper.
Said paper to be BOOK PAPER, measuring 25 by 40 inches, and to weigh respectively 40 and 50 pounds to the ream. Also, DOUBLE FLAT CAP, measuring 17 by 26 inches, weighing 28 pounds to the ream. Bids will be received for each kind separately. Said proposals to be opened in presence of bidders, on SATURDAY, the 1st day of August, 1868, at the office of the Superintendent. Contract to run from December, 1868, to August, 1869.
The successful bidders will be required rigidly to conform to samples which will be furnished upon application at the office of the Superintendent. No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by a guarantee that the bidder or bidders, provided his or their proposal shall be accepted, will enter into an obligation with good and sufficient security, to furnish the articles proposed for; and each proposal must be accompanied by satisfactory evidence that the persons making said proposals are manufacturers of or dealers in the description of paper which he or they propose to furnish.
JOHN YOUNGMAN,
Superintendent Public Printing,
jy13:t9 75 Market Street, Harrisburg.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOUND.
That after repeated trials of other remedies, Roback's Stomach Bitters, Blood Purifier and Blood Pills are the best medicines extant to cure the diseases for which they are recommended.
Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

PILES.
There is no medicine in use so efficacous as Dr. Roback's Blood Purifier and Blood Pills for the permanent cure of Blind or Bleeding Piles; they strike at the root of disease, thereby removing the cause.
Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

TEMPERANCE.
There is, perhaps, no one thing that has done so much to promote the cause of temperance as that gentle stimulating tonic, Roback's Stomach Bitters; they strengthen and invigorate without producing the ill effects of alcoholic stimulants.
Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

LIVER PILLS
Are Pills that have a direct and powerful action o the liver, and relieve any inactivity or congeste state of that all important organ upon which depedds the whole process of digestion. The importance, then, of procuring a Pill that shall have such direct action without the ill effects of mercury, is manifest to every one; such Pills are Roback's Blood Pills; they are warranted purely vegetable, and can with certainty be relied upon, and are safe at all times.
Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

INDIGESTION
Is but another name for Dyspepsia, and the parent of many ills. Roback's Stomach Bitters taken in wine-glass-full doses, directly after each meal, will surely effect a permanent cure. Do not take our word for it, but try them.
Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

NIGHT MARE
Is one of the many diseases of which Dyspepsia is the parent. To effect a cure persons should avoid hearty food at night, and take a wine-glass-full of Roback's Stomach Bitters on retiring to bed.
Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

RENOVATE.
During the Spring months it is one of the regular household duties to renovate, and, in the multiplicity of other duties one's own self is, in a great measure, overlooked; thousands of valuable lives might be prolonged, and many doubtless saved from premature graves by thoroughly renovating the system with Dr. Roback's Blood Pills, Stomach Bitters and Blood Purifier.
Sold by all Druggists Everywhere.

MELANCHOLY

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Gold was strong to-day at 140¾ to 141¼; closing at 140¾. The demand for coin for the purpose of shipment to Europe is increasing, and although the Sub-Treasury is daily paying out considerable amounts of coin for interest, the market is barely supplied. Considerable purchases are made for hoarding, and the same class of men that talked up gold last November are trying to run up the premium now.

Government bonds were less firm today, with only a moderate investment demand, and no disposition is manifested to buy and hold for higher prices, especially is this the case with the Five Twenties of the July issue. Ten Forties remain firm at 107⅝; also, 1862s and 1865s, old issue. Eighty-one bonds are much neglected; according to the Pendleton doctrine these bonds are no better than 1865 Consols or 1864s. The recommendation of the Democratic Convention of paying the Government bonds in currency finds an interpretation which differs widely from the commonly conceived idea of the masses, that is, manufacturing greenbacks to redeem the bonds with; but, financiers, like Belmont and his Wall street friends, wish to improve the currency by the economical administration of the governments finances, by taxing sufficient to leave a surplus to redeem bonds with, and thus raise the Governments credit, and advance the bonds to such a greenback premium that they would command about par in gold. Payment of bonds then in currency would practically be a resumption of specie payments. The present enormous imports and necessary shipments of bullion to pay for, shows a poor prospect of raising the Governments credit to such an extent that they would command par in gold. With the advance of the premium bonds, gold should decline, and thus greenbacks would gradually approach the standard par of gold.

Stocks are dull and inactive. Border State bonds are a little better, but no material advance has been established. Express shares are neglected.

Money is better, business remains very dull.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 141¼; 1881 bonds, 113¼; 5-20s, 1862, 113¼; 1864 do, 110¼; 1865 do, 111¾; new, 1865 and 1867, 108⅝; Ten Forties, 107¼; Seven Thirties, 108¾.

New York Central, 134⅜; Erie, 70; Michigan Southern, 91⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 86¾; Northwestern, common, 78¾; Preferred, 81⅝; Chicago & Rock Island, 108½; Pittsburgh & Fort Wayne, 108¼; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29¼; Merchants Union Express, 24¾; Western Union Telegraph, 34⅞; Corydon, 30; Quicksilver, 20¾; Quartz Hill, 1,15.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 140¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 113¼; 5-20's, 1862, 113¼; 5-20's, 1864, 110¼; 5-20's, 1865, 111¾; 10-40's, 107⅜; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 108⅝; 5-20's, January and July, '67 108¾; June 7-30's, 108⅝; July 7-30's, 108⅜; May Comp., 1865, 119,-30.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

CRUDE—The Crude market was again dull and weak to-day, but a single sale reported, 2,000 bbls—500 each from August to December, seller's option, at 14½c. Spot oil was offered freely at 14c without finding buyers, and future deliveries were offered at 14½c; the former shows a decline of fully a cent, and, even at the reduction, the demand seemed to be very much restricted, and the market was devoid of that life and animation which prevailed during the week up until Friday. It is not a little remarkable that while Antwerp has advanced to a figure not before attained this year, our own, as well as the eastern markets, have been dull and weak for two days past, and to-day there were no indications of an improvement. It should be borne in mind, however, that the market is usually very sensitive at this particular season of the year, and subject to spasmodic movements every few days; one day it may seem to be the very picture of despair, while within the next forty-eight hours it is just as likely to be very much excited, and 3 to 5c per gallon higher. The main cause for the present reaction lies in the fact that the production, it is believed, is steadily increasing, the latest and most reliable advices we have place the daily yield between eleven and twelve thousand barrels, which is an increase of about two thousand barrels within the last three months. As an offset to this, however, it is stated that the demand for consumption is, and will be considerably larger this year than last, new markets having been opened up; it is also alleged that about ten thousand barrels per day are being exported to foreign countries.

REFINED—The demand for bonded oil was also very quiet to-day, though, compared with yesterday, prices have undergone no quotable change. Compared with Wednesday and Thursday, however, there has been a decline of from one to one and a half cents; and, as we have already stated, the market is quiet, even at the reduction. Sale of 2,500 bbls, 500 each, August to December, at 34c; 1,000 first half August at 34c; 1,500 1st to 15th August at 34½c, and 500 15th to 30th, at 35c. All the year, buyer's option, is nominal at 35 to 35½c—the last sale reported was at 36c, but it was made before the decline. Spot oil is quoted at 33½ to 34c.

BENZOLE—Sale of 1,000 bbls for half half of August at 19½c.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil to-day were as follows:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The general markets have been dull, and quiet during the past week, and devoid of anything new or very important. Flour is firmer, but it will only be temporary; we look for a further decline notwithstanding it has advanced slightly in the West. Provisions firmer more active and a shade higher. Grain is quiet and unchanged. Groceries continue dull and neglected, though as the fruit season is near at hand, there will be an active demand for sugars. Butter, Eggs and produce generally dull and unchanged.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet, and but little offering, either old or new; quotations may be given at $2,20 to $2,25, as to quality. The supply of old crop in this section of country is well nigh exhausted, and it is too early yet for new. Corn is firmer and some holders are asking an advance; we are quoted sales of prime Yellow at $1,09, but this as yet is about three cents above the market. Rye is scarce and in the absence of sales may be quoted at $1,75 to $1,80. Oats dull but unchanged at 77 to 78 on track, and 80c in store.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm and higher, with an improved demand; we now quote at 13½ to 13¾ for shoulders; 16 to 16½ for Ribbed, and 18 for Clear Sides, and 20 to 20½ for canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is higher, also, 18c for prime kettled rendered.

LARD OIL—Is reported lower, notwithstanding Lard has advanced; we now quote at $1,18 for No. 2, and $1,35 for No. 1.

HAY—Is steady, and with limited arrivals, firm but unchanged; $15 to $20 for new, and $20 to $25 for old.

MILL FEED—Steady with sales of Bran at $1,20 to $1,25, and Middlings at $1,85 to $1,95.

POTATOES—Under the influence of increased arrivals, have still further declined, and we now quote at $5 to $5,50 per bbl.

GREEN APPLES—Have commenced to appear in market, but, they are, as yet, small and inferior, not having come to maturity.

PIG LEAD—Is quoted at 10½c.

LIME—Sales at $2 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is scarce and wanted at $2,50 to $2.55.

SALT—Is dull and nominally unchanged; $1,75 to 1,80 to the trade, and $2,00 for small lots.

CHEESE—Is steady, with regular sales at 13 to 14c for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 15 to 16c for Ohio Factory; 18c for Limburg, and 19 to 20c for Sweitzer.

FLOUR—Notwithstanding the advance in the west, has not advanced very much here, as yet, though there is a firmer feeling. The demand does not seem to have improved, nor is it likely that it will while the market remains in its present condition. We continue to quote at $9,50 to $10 for fair to good Spring Wheat; $10,25 to $10,75 for prime to choice do; $11 to $11,50 for Winter Wheat, and $13 to $14 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $8,75 to $9.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 11.—Dry Goods were buoyant for all staple cottons: but the demand was less active. Heavy brown sheeting of the best makes were firm at 17a18c; white Atlantic A commands 18½c. The Agawam F are firm at 14c; New Market A 14c. Bleached muslins of the best makes were steady, but medium and light advanced full ½c during the week; Hill's Semper Idem now bring 18½c; Hope 16½c; Lonsdale 18½a19c, Lawrence B 15½c; Portsmouth 11½c. Dark Prints in seasonable styles are in better request and risen to 13½a14½c for best makes.

New Orleans Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 11.—Cotton easier; middling, 32c; sales 200 bales; receipts, 6 bales. Flour firm; superfine $7,50; choice, $10,50a13,50. Sugar; Cuba fully fair, 13¼a13½c. Corn firm at 95a$1. Oats steady at 75c. Hay, $21a22. Pork excited; holders asking $30. Bacon excited; shoulders, 13½c; clear sides, 17½c. Lard stiffer; tierce, 18½; kettle, 19½a20c.

Baltimore Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, July 11.—Flour remains dull. Wheat firm; red at $2,40a2,55. Corn dull; white at $1,12a1,16. Oats unchanged. Mess pork active at $29. Bacon active and advancing. Rib sides at 16¼a16½c. Clear sides at 16¾c. Shoulders at 14a14½c. Hams at 21a22c. Lard active and advancing; sales at 17¼a18c.

Chicago Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 11.—Beef Cattle are very dull at $5.25a6,05 for fair butchers steers, and $6,20a7,25 for medium to good shipping do. Hogs are dull and 10a15c lower, at $8,12½a8,25 for common light; $8,40a8,60 for fair to medium, and $8,70a8,85 for good to choice smooth.

How it Feels to be Blown Up—A Michigan Local Editor's Experience.

Most of our readers will doubtless remember the explosion of the steamer Magnolia on the Ohio river, some ten miles above Cincinnati, in March last. Mention was made at the time of the supposed fatal injuries received by Charles B. Lewis, ("Em Quad"), ex-local editer of the Lansing Democrat, who was on his way to accept a situation on the Maysville, (Ky.) Bulletin. Being now, after a lapse of more than three months, partially able to resume his duties, he thus writes up an account of his accident for the Jacksonian:

"When I bought my ticket I asked the clerk if the Magnolia was considered a safe boat. He looked at me with a half-sneering, half-pitying expression, and replied by inquiring if I had ever traveled much.

"I did. Was seated in the cabin, between an ex-Colonel of a Georgia regiment and a Cincinnati pork dealer, and we were all talking over the impeachment matter. My fellow passengers soon became heated and angry. They were cursing Congress and the President across my head—each one as he felt—and I was looking for a muss. Their angry talk soon collected a crowd. I had just got up from my chair to keep clear of the coming fracas, when I heard a yell of agony, and before you could have counted three, up through the cabin, and almost under our feet, came a huge, jagged mass of iron.

"For an instant thereafter I was conscious of everything going on. I saw the cabin roof lifted up, heard the angry hiss of steam, the crashing of timbers, and a cry from the injured and frightened passengers that will never be forgotten. Then I was lifted from my feet; I felt an intense pain in the back of my head, and a biting, stinging sensation over my entire body. Sixteen days afterwards I awoke in the Commercial hospital at Cincinnati. I knew that I was badly hurt, but could not remember how or when I was injured.

"As afterwards ascertained, I was blown out of the cabin into the river. When the explosion occurred, the steamer was just rounding the bend above California, hugging pretty close the Ohio shore to avoid the heavy current. I must have taken a jump of at least two hundred feet, as I was picked up close to the shore. The survivors were conveyed down to the city on a tug, and here comes the only joke I can discover in the whole affair.

"From some cause or other, my face was turned to as deep a black as negro ever wore, and I was accordingly treated as one. A dead cart was sent down from the hospital, and side by side with two wounded darkeys, lying on a mattress, I was carried up. The mistake was not discovered until the surgeons commenced shaving the hair off to get at my broken skull. I was supposed, for the first two days, to be a deck hand, but the telegram from my wife to the editor of the Enquirer, who came and hunted me up, soon set the matter right.

"On awakening in the hospital, I inquired how badly I was hurt. The only answer I received was to 'keep still.' Considering that I could move neither hand nor foot, I regarded this advice as entirely thrown away. But it did not take me long to find out that, first, there was an uncomfortble 'air-hole' in the back of my head; second the sight entirely gone from the left optic and the skin peeled off my face and ears; third that I had been 'steamed,' or rather cooked, from head to heels, including both arms; and lastly that the doctors had just pulled me through a severe attack of pneumonia. Remained in the hospital twenty-nine days, and then concluded to go home. Had not yet been able to leave my bed, but, accompanied by my brother-in-law, C. H. Rulison, Esq., who had nursed me from the third day, I made the journey.

"Getting home—my friends had been looking to see me come in a coffin—my wounds had all filled up with 'proud flesh.' This, of course, had to be burned out, driving me crazy for a night and a day, and compelling me to use a solution of blue vitriol twice a day for forty days. So you can form a slight idea of the pain and suffering, and how much 'ye loca!' can endure without becoming 'dead matter.'

"Now, after a lapse of almost one hundred days, I find myself once more about, but condemned to wear the savage marks of the steam-fiend to my grave. A bald spot where the iron missile crushed my skull, a 'piebald' eye, a face that resembles a beet, and over my arms, body and limbs are scars that resemble great slices of fresh beef laid upon the skin. But after all, I am yet alive and getting ready to once more pursue the 'itemizing business,' which you know is vastly better than being fished out of the Ohio some torpid day, with no Coroner handy for an inquest."

Fruit.

I am not quite sure whether fruit is always brought to us as it should be. Pears and apples no doubt bear careful carriage, and, however suddenly they may ripen at last, are often a long time reaching the perfection of maturity, even after they have been gathered; but there is an essence which belongs to most fruit, and which begins to vanish the moment it is plucked. Even the short transfer from the garden wall to the dish at dessert cannot be made without the loss of some of that subtle flavor which is conveyed by the living stalk from the sun-fed tree. Fruit should be eaten alive, like oysters. There is an edge to the taste of a fresh-opened oyster, which comes, I suppose, from the surprise he feels at being suddenly scooped out of his shell. In a few minutes this gives place to a feeling of alarm, and then, in an hour or two, to one of despair. When he is laid out with his brethren in a dish, the whole fruit is hopeless and sad. They may still taste of life, but it is of life disappointed. But the fresh opened oyster has no time to grow feverish or melancholy.

While a plumb, for example, hangs upon its stalk, it is in some kind of magnetic correspondence with all the powers of nature. Cut it off, and in time it dies, currupt, unwholesome; and every movement in its progress from life to death is marked by a decadence of that essence which makes fruit delicious. Therefore, supposing that you pluck it ripe, the sooner a plum is eaten the better for you. This of course applies most to tender, thin-skinned fruit. A firm apple dies slowly. A nut holds out long against the debasing influence of separation from its source of life. But plumbs, figs, peaches, apricots, and strawberries begin to suffer directly after they are gathered. This is the case even with pines, which are susceptible of bruises, but they contain such an apparent surplusage of flavor that the first stages of their decay are not perceived except by a cunning palate.

I think the morning is the best time for fruit; I am not quite sure, though. The afternoon is good. But I don't recommend fruit with the dew on it. Let the fruit get its own breakfast before you eat it yourself. It breakfasts on early sunshine and dew. It takes these things in, and smiles upon itself and the world, just as you do just half an hour after a pleasant breakfast. Eat it while it is in this humor, by no means in the raw and early morning; thus you have the young freshness and virgin flavor of the fruit. It has another character later in the day, when it is filled with sunshine; then I think it is sweeter.

The Little Woman.

As a rule, the little women are brave. When the lymphatic giantess falls into a faint, or goes off into hysterics, she storms, or bustles about, or holds on like a game terrier, according to the work on hand. She will fly at any man who annoys her, and bears herself as equal to the biggest and strongest fellow of her acquaintance. In general she does it all by sheer pluck, and is not notorious for subtlety or craft. Had Delilah been a little woman, she would never have undertaken to shear Samson's locks. She would have defied him with all his strength untouched on his head; and she would have overcome him, too. Judith and Jael were both probably large women. The work they went about, demanded a certain strength of muscle and toughness of sinew; but who can say that Jezebel was not a small, freckled, auburn haired Lady Audley of her time, full of the consecrated fire, the electric force, the passionate recklessness of her type? Regan and Goneril might have been beautiful demons of the same pattern; we have the example of the Marchioness de Brinvillers as to what amount of spiritual deviltry can exist with the face and manner of an angel direct from heaven; and perhaps Cordelia was a tall, dark haired girl, with a pair of brown eyes, and a long nose sloping downward.

On the whole, then, the little women have the best of it. More petted than their bigger sisters, and infinitely more powerful, they have their own way, in part, because it really does not seem worth while to contest a point with such little creatures. There is nothing that wounds a man's self-respect in any victory they may get or claim. Where there is absolute inequality of strength, there can be no humiliation in the self-imposed defeat of the stronger; and as it is always more pleasant to have peace than war, and as big men for the most part rather like than not to put their necks under the tread of tiny feet, the little woman goes on her way triumphant to the end, breaking all the laws she does not like, and throwing down all the barriers that impede her progress, perfectly irresistible and irrepressible in all circumstances and under any conditions.—Saturday Review.

Willow Ware.

It is a surprising fact that upward of five thousand different articles in common use are manufactured of the ordinary willow. The American willow is probably as good as the German and French varieties for all practical purposes, but an insufficient quantity of it is grown, and hence we depend chiefly on the foreign supply. The French are famous for the production of "fancy" articles in willow ware, but the Germans, and especially the Bavarians, excel in the general excellence of the work of this kind. They devise all sorts of useful contrivances and display much ingenuity in inventing curious articles which are of no particular utility, but serve to adorn spare corners of apartments, or to pique curiosity as to the purposes for which they are intended.

In Bavaria, fathers hand down their knowledge of this art to their sons, and when the sons become fathers, their progeny follow the same line of business. Willow working is a family affair, and long practice makes perfect. Expert and nimble fingers are required, to split and weave the little willow wands into so many shapes as these facile people produce. From the tiny toy basket, scarcely bigger than a lady's thimble, but complete in all its parts, which is to go to the child's nursery, up to the ponderous hamper with the capacity of bushels there is a wide leap—but the Bavarian worker knows how and when and where to stick his awl, and thread in the willow in and out. Some of his work is so fairy that a breath blows them away; another piece is strong enough to hold a heavy man, with no danger that he will break the plaited straws. In this country heavy willow-work is chiefly produced—such as clothes-baskets, children's chairs and wagons, market baskets and the like, and the blind excel in this industry. Some very neat and pretty patterns are made in the Shaker settlements. On the banks of the Connecticut river large supplies of willow are obtained, of a quality unsurpassed by those of any other part of the globe.

BISMARCK'S disease is not inflammation of the epigastrium, as was reported by all the German papers and correspondents, but consumption of the spinal chord. He can live yet a good many years, but must no longer indulge in long-continued mental work.

IT IS believed in Berlin that if Bismarck's health should not improve very soon, the King of Prussia will accept his resignation, and appoint old General Moltke Mintster of Foreign Affairs. The old General, it is believed, would be perfectly equal to the difficult task.

MISCELLANEOUS.

640 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is on absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTCAGE BONDS

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Quiet.—Troy Hill was quiet yesterday, Mayor Drum having placed two policemen on duty there during the day.

Painted.—The boxes of the Allegheny Fire Alarm Telegraph have been painted a dark yellow color to prevent them from rusting.

There were five cases of drunkenness at the Allegheny lock up on Saturday night. Most of them paid their fines on Sunday morning and were discharged.

Slim Attendance.—Owing to the great heat yesterday the various churches in the two cities were rather slimly attended. Several of them dispensed with the evening service.

Abandoned.—The Home for the Destitute which accomplished so much good in this vicinity, has been abandoned for the present. When circumstances require, it is the intention to establish it again.

A Severe Fall.—Yesterday afternoon a lady in the Seventh ward tripped and fell, breaking her leg and otherwise injuring herself. She was conveyed to Passavant's Hospital and her injuries attended to.

Broke Down.—A wagon loaded with barrels broke down on Penn street, Saturday, in front of the office of the Citizens' Passenger Railway. After obstructing the street for a couple of hours the owner finally had it unloaded and removed.

Almost Completed.—The new North Avenue M. E. Church, in Allegheny, is nearly ready for occupancy. When finished it will be one of the finest church edifices in Western Pennsylvania. Bishop Simpson is expected to take part in the dedicatory services, which will take place in a few weeks.

Personal.—The many friends of Mr. E. T. Cook, Superintendent of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be pained to learn that he has been lying at his residence, on Liberty street, for the past week, seriously ill from an attack of fever. He was somewhat improved yesterday, but his physician does not yet consider him out of danger.

Inquest.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest on Saturday on the body of Theophilus Herman, the boy who was drowned on Thursday afternoon in the Allegheny river. Several witnesses were examined, but no additional facts were elicited further than what we have before published. A verdict of accidental drowning was rendered.

On a Tour.—Wm. Semple, Esq., the well known dry goods merchant of Allegheny, sailed for Europe on Saturday in the steamship City of Baltimore, of the Inman line. He expects to be away about a month. We wish him a speedy and prosperous voyage over, a pleasant and enjoyable time while there, and a safe return, with renewed health and vigor.

A Pugnacious James.—James Mehan, of No. 3 Milligan's Row, in the Fifth ward, must have been in a bad humor, or spoiling for a fight the other day, if he acted as Mary Flynn, a neighbor, alleges he did. She states that he came into her house on Saturday, and after insulting her endeavored to pick a quarrel with her husband, by bantering him to come out to fight and making divers other hostile demonstrations. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of James, on an information for surety of the peace.

Committee Appointed.—At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Chartiers Valley Railroad held at Canonsburg, Washington county, Pa, on Saturday, Messrs. J. H. Ewing, Wm. M. Daniels and Wm. Reed of Washington county and George Neil and James Murray of Allegheny county were appointed a Committee to wait upon J. Edgar Thompson, of the Pennsylvania Central, and report to him that $250,000 had been subscribed toward the building of the road.

Meetings of Conferees.

The Republican Conferees of the Twenty-third Congressional district will meet again to-day at Freeport, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. They held a meeting on Thursday last, but, after balloting sixty-one times without coming to any decision, adjourned to meet to-day to try again.

The Republican Conferees of the Twenty-fourth Congressional district will also convene for a similar purpose this afternoon at three o'clock in the Monongahela House. They were in conference several days last week, and balloted nearly two hundred times without nominating. Perhaps they will have better luck to-day.

Sad Case of Drowning.

Yesterday evening about half-past five o'clock a sad case of drowning occurred, the victim being a little boy, five years of age, named Peter Baker, son of Jacob Baker, of Birmingham. It appears that the little fellow went to the well connected with his father's house, on Jane street, between John and Joseph to get a drink. While there by some accident he fell in and was immediately drowned. The body was recovered soon afterwards and the head found to be very much bruised, caused, no doubt, by striking against the sides of the well in the descent. The Coroner has been notified and will hold an inquest to-day.

Railroad Accident.

On Saturday night, about eleven o'clock, William Luke, in the employ of the Monongahela Navigation Company, met with a severe accident, which may perhaps result fatally. It seems that he was walking along the track of the Connellsville Railroad, slighly intoxicated, when a passenger train came along, and he, not hearing or heeding the alarm, was knocked down and had his right arm run over by the cars, mangling and mutilating it in a terrible manner. Drs. Sutton and M'Cook yesterday amputated the arm at the shoulder, and the injured man was then conveyed to Passavant's Hospital, where he is doing as well as could be expected. He is about thirty years of age, unmarried and boarded at Port Perry, Pa.

Supposed Larceny of Silver Ware.

On Saturday a man came to the fruit stand of Mr. Pulpress, in the Allegheny market, and sold to the son of the proprietor a silver napkin ring for twenty-five cents. The young man suspecting that all was not right, informed the police of the transaction and gave a discription of the man. Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock one of the police arrested the man in the First ward, Allegheny. When brought to the office and searched, a quantity of goods was found about him, all of which no doubt have been stolen. The goods consisted of a linen table cloth, three new unhemmed linen handkerchiefs, half dozen silver teaspoons, half dozen tablespoons, five silver forks, a call bell, and a small nail brush. The spoons were stamped with the initials "H. R.," and the napkin ring was marked "E. M. B.—from Brother." The owner of the articles can have them by calling at the Mayor's office. The prisoner gave his name as Patrick McCloskey, and gave several accounts in regard to the goods, none of which are very plausible. He was locked up and will have a hearing this morning.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

In this Court on Saturday, the following business was done:

MOTION OVERRULED.

R. R. McQuiston & Co., vs. the Monongahela Navigation Company. The motion to set aside the judgment was overruled, and the same made absolute.

THE GEARING-MILLINGAR CASE.

Judge Williams delivered an opinion overruling the motion for a new trial in the case of Charles Gearing vs. James Millingar, tried some time since. This it will be recollected was the great cotton case, in regard to which so much interest was manifested, before, during and after the trial. The jury found a verdict in favor of Gearing for $40,000, and the defendant's counsel immediately moved for a new trial. The motion was subsequently argued before Judge Williams, who overruled it as stated.

James Rees vs. John Morrow. Judge Hampton filed an opinion setting aside the judgment of non-suit, and awarded a new trial.

In the matter of re-petition of Jos. Keeling for a lateral railroad in Lower St. Clair township, the Court appointed Reuben Miller and John Brown as viewers, instead of Wm. Holmes and Isaac Jones.

The balance of the session was taken up by the usual motions, special returns and acknowledgement of deeds by the Sheriff.

Quarter Sessions—Full Bench.

In this Court on Saturday the business of the June term was nearly all finished up. Following were the sentences passed:

HEAVY SENTENCE.

Frederick Baum, tried and convicted of fornication and bastardy, preferred by Margaret Walters, of East Liberty, was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars for the use of the guardians of the poor, seventy dollars to the prosecutrix for expenses incurred by the birth of the child, the sum of eight dollars per week for five years for its maintenance, and to give bail in the sum of $800 for the faithful observance and performance of the sentence. The defendant was tried twice, the first jury failing to agree. The second jury convicted and he was sentenced as stated.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLERS SENTENCED.

The following disposition was made of several liquor cases: Henry Alles plead guilty to selling liquor without license in Oakland township. He was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs.

Arthur Ehrenburg, of McKeesport, plead guilty to selling liquor to minors. The Court sentenced him to pay a fine of thirty dollars and costs and undergo thirty days imprisonment in the county jail.

Boaz Marz plead guilty to selling liquor without license and was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs.

A DESERTION CASE.

Some time ago John Melarky had a hearing on a charge of wife desertion. In view of the fact that he did not have steady employment, the Court sentenced him to pay only two dollars a week for the support of his wife. On Saturday District Attorney Duff moved the Court to grant a rule to show cause why the defendant should not pay more money to his wife, it appearing that he had steady employment and was making full wages. The Court increased the amount from two to four dollars per week.

SENTENCED FOR LARCENY.

George W. Keagle, found guilty of the robbery of $770 from R. Buck in November last, was next brought into Court for sentence. His counsel, Messrs. Morrison and Cochran, made an effort to have the young man sentenced to the House of Refuge, but the Court refused to comply with their request. The prisoner, too, made a statement in which he strenuously denied his guilt. The Court then sentenced him to pay a fine of six cents and to undergo one year's imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary. After the sentence had been passed, Keagle said, addressing the Judge, "Before God, your Honor, I am innocent."

NOLLE PROSEQUI ENTERED.

A nolle prosequi was entered in the case of Arthur Kirk, charged with storing gun powder within specified limits, the defendant to pay the costs.

REWARD FOR A HORSE THIEF.

On motion, the Court allowed officer Bowden, Chief of Police of Allegheny City, the sum of $20 for arresting a horse thief named John Christig, convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary some time ago.

ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.

On motion of John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., Norval Marchand, of East Lifierty, was qualified and duly admitted to practice in the several courts of Allegheny county.

Mr. Marchand has for a long time been a student in the law office of Messrs. Kirkpatrick & Mellon, of this city, and finished his studies, graduating high in his class, in the well known law school at Albany, New York, over which ex-Senator Harris presides. We feel justified in predicting for him a sucessful career in the laborious profession upon which he has just entered.

ARGUMENT LIST.

The Argument List will be taken up on Monday.

Common Pleas—Full Bench.

Court met at ten o'clock on Saturday and the following business was transacted:

After the usual proclamation Sheriff Cluley appeared and acknowledged a number of deeds.

In the case of Nicholas Link vs. Morrison, Koegler & Co., a motion was made to take off the non-suit.

A. Roedelheim vs C. A. Boucher. Affidavit filed and rule granted to quash proceedings.

The report of the sale of the Union Cemetery of the Methodist Episcopal Church was presented and approved.

Messrs. Kier, Foster & Kier presented a petition for the extension of their Lateral Coal Railroad at Negley's Run, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, in Penn township. The petition was received and ordered to be filed.

Court then adjourned until Saturday, July 18th.

Aggravated Assault and Battery.

Henry Keyser, residing on Washington street, Sixth ward, Allegheny, made information on Saturday evening before Mayor Drum, against Wm. Hollinger, proprietor of an eating saloon in the southeast corner of the Allegheny Market House, for aggravated assault and battery. Keyser alleges that he went into the saloon about half past six o'clock in the evening and asked for something to eat, when Hollinger, without any provocation, pitched upon and abused him in a terrible manner. Hollinger's statement of the case is that Keyser came into his establishment in an intoxicated state and began handling the things on the table and otherwise annoying him considerably, and in endeavoring to put him out they got into a scuffle. Hollinger was held in the sum of $300 to answer the charge at Court.

Sudden Death.

Alderman Guyan M. Irwin held an inquest on Saturday on the body of a German named Gottleib ——, who died suddenly on the farm of Louis Fraitch, in Ross township. It seems that the man had been working in the hay field all day, and about 5 o'clock in the evening he left and went to the house to get a drink. After drinking he complained that he felt unwell and laid down in the barn to rest. He had lain there but a very short time when it was discovered that he was dead. A physician was called in who, after an examination of the corpse, said he thought the man died from apoplexy, and the jury rendered a verdict accordingly. He was about thirty-five years of age and unmarried.

Suicide of Jennie Miller—Coroner's Inquest.

The facts connected with this singular affair are still fresh in the minds of our readers, and we need not rehearse them here. On Wednesday, the day on which she died, the Coroner impannelled a jury to investigate the case, and after viewing the body the inquest was adjourned until Saturday at two P. M. On Saturday the inquest was held, at which the following testimony was elicited:

Dr. W. K. Hamilton, sworn—On Monday morning, shortly after nine o'clock, I was called to see Jennie Miller at the Union Depot; found her laboring under the effect apparently of an overdose of opium; as soon as possible I admiuistered emetics, the effects of the poison having affected her constitutionally; we endeavored to keep her awake by having her walk over the floor, parties assisting her until she was entirely powerless; water was dashed in her face, and she was rubbed; we kept her breathing by this and other means; at times it was with great difficulty we could keep her breathing; from 5½ to 7 o'clock in the evening we could raise her without much trouble; about 9 o'clock she was able to speak, reaction having come on; I then had hopes of her recovery; she vomited incessantly through the night and during the next day; on Thursday morning the powers of life failed and she sank rapidly and died about 10 o'clock; the poison seemed to kill her by poisoning her blood, and she had congestion of the brain, liver and lungs; the amount taken was about two-thirds of an ounce.

Examination resumed—Do not think she had any other disease; did not ask her if she had improper connections with persons; do not think she was in the family way; did not examine her before or after her death.

James Bacon, one of the young men who had been keeping company with the deceased, testified that the last time he saw her was on Sunday evening, at Mr. Lowrie's house in East Liberty. She was well at that time, and told him that she wanted to get rid of Mr. Quinn, and thought he would go home. I heard that she was poisoned, and came to the depot to see her; she said she had her reasons for killing herself, and that she did not want anybody punished for what she had done. Quinn said they were engaged to be married, but she denied it; she was with him in Pittsburgh on the Fourth of July. Her statement to me was that she procured the laudanum in East Liberty, by sending a little girl to a drug store, giving her twenty-five cents, and requesting her to purchase that amount. Her companion, Mr. Quinn, was with her when the package was given her by the little girl; he asked her what was in it; she said, cordial, and she was going to take it when she got home; she took the laudanum at the station, when he was not seeing her, and he did not know she had taken it; she handed me [the witness] the bottle. [It was here produced by the witness, and was about one-fourth full. It contained the label of R. M'Clarran, Druggist, East Liberty, and a printed direction as to the doses required to be taken by persons of various ages.] I visited her on the evening of that day.

John Cardiff, a cousin of the deceased, was examined and testified that he saw Miss Miller on Monday morning about two o'clock. She got him his breakfast, and he came to Pittsburgh. Quinn and Miss Miller were together the same morning at seven o'clock, when he returned from Pittsburgh; saw them at Mr. Bown's grocery store in East Liberty; I heard about one o'clock that she was poisoned; she said about half an hour before she died that she was tired of being knocked around, and that Quinn had nothing to do with it; Mr. Quinn stopped at the same house, and always boarded there when he was in East Liberty; Mr. Bacon appeared to be liked by her better than Quinn was.

James Lowrie, the gentleman with whom the girl lived, was sworn, and said that on Monday morning, about two o'clock, she came to his bed and told him not to wake her as usual, as she did not want to see Quinn; she slept in the same room with witness. About six o'clock Quinn came into her room and took her by the hand and pulled her up, and asked her to go to the station with him. She had lain down with her clothes on. It was reported that she had taken poison some time ago at Johnstown.

Mr. Cardiff was re-called and testified that he never knew of her taking poison before, but she was sick last winter, and her brother-in-law found in her pocket a lozenge, which was said to be a love powder, or love lozenge, and that they had better have it examined. It was shown to Miss Miller, and she said she would attend to that.

This closed the evidence and the jury rendered the following verdict:

"That Jennie Miller came to her death by an overdose of laudanum, administered by her own hands, on the 6th of July, death resulting therefrom on the 9th of July, at the Union Depot, Pittsburgh.

Out of Jail and in.

It is said that there is a time to laugh and a time to cry. Patrick Leonard must have realized the truth of this old proverb on Saturday, for it seems that both occasions occurred in one short day of his life. Patrick having been discharged from jail, where he had been serving a term for larceny, thought he at least ought to smile to express his joy at release, and he accordingly did so. Strange to say, however, the smiling was just the reverse of making him good humored; in fact it made him quite bad humored and caused him to commence an onslaught on officer J. H. Behsen, which resulted in his arrest on an information for assault and battery preferred by the officer before Alderman Lippert. A hearing was had in the case, and Patrick was compelled to take up his old quarters, which he was exceedingly loth to do. Poor Patrick.

Manchester Reading Room.

This institution, for some reason, has not been very well sustained thus far. We cannot account for this state of affairs, as it has a central location, is a large, pleasant, airy room, and on its tables may be found daily quite a number of the leading journals from all parts of the country, besides all the best weekly publications, illustrated, literary and political, and all the popular magazines of the day. Our Manchester friends should wake up and see that such a noble institution is not allowed to languish. It is worth the hearty support of all, and we hope that before long we may be able to chronicle it in a flourishing condition.

"Onward, right onward,
Into the valley of death,
Rode the Six Hundred."

But larger, by hundreds multiplied into millions, than the doomed band who rode to swift destruction, in Tennyson's poem, is the great cavalcade of unhappy men who are rushing to untimely graves, followed by the gaunt spectre Dyspepsia. This is all wrong, and should cease. Plantation Bitters, the great Stomachic Pain Killer, cures Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Headache, Vertigo, Dullness, and all symptoms of kindred character, as if by magic. For Langnor, Lassitude, Great Weakness and Mental Depression, they have a most wonderful effect.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—A delightful toilet article—superior to Cologne, and at half the price. MWF&F

Burnett's Standard Preparations.—We learn from the first confectioner in this city, that Burnett's Extracts of Fruits and Flowers for flavoring Cakes, Pies, &c., are worthy of the high reputation which they enjoy, being equal to the English articles of the same kind of the highest celebrity. The Toilet Preparations of the same house stand, we are assured, equally high.—Montreal Witness.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE HISTORY OF A MOUTHFUL OF BREAD. By Jean Mace, author of "Home Fairy Tales," etc. Translated by Mrs. Alfred Gatty. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

We hail the advent of a new era in communicating knowledge to the young people, in the beautiful style of such works as Mace's creations. By this mode children are educated more rapidly and obtain a more intelligent knowledge of different studies, than by the old way. Dry and even difficult studies are rendered pleasant and are also more easily mastered. Mace's name is a tower of strength, and is sufficient to command success. This book is of a higher order of this class of works, in which we have presented in a charming style of language, the organization of Men and Animals. It is divided in two parts—first part, Man, and second, Animals. It reads like romance, and young folks cannot fail to be charmed as well as instructed. The translation is excellently well done.

THE SERVANTS OF THE STOMACH. By Jean Mace, author of "The History of a Mouthful of Bread," etc. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

This volume is of the same character of "The History of a Mouthful of Bread." The distinguished author in the latter has shown the wonderful movements of certain functions of the human system, but this work discusses a less mysterious subject, the walking machine. Here we have portrayed in the writer's enchanting style, the relations of the arms, muscles, brain, etc. We look for a large sale of both these publications, as they combine popular elements, as well as valuable instruction.

DEMOCRACY IN THE UNITED STATES. What it has done, what is doing, and what it will do. By Ransom H. Gillet, formerly Registrar and Solicitor of the United States Treasury Department, etc. Published by D. Appleton, & Co., New York. For sale by Heury Miner, Pittsburgh.

The publication of this work at this time, especially as the National Democratic Convention is balloting for President and Vice-President at the time this notice is written, is significant. By Democracy, of course, Mr. Gillet means the principles of the Democratic party, and his book is a defence of that party and an outline of its history. The fact that Mr. Gillet was for a long time a prominent and active politician, he has had ample opportunities to fit himself for the duty of writing such a book. Democrats will find this a valuable work for reference, and others can see the principles of that party well set forth.

This elegant edition of the great novelist will comprise six volumes, at the low price of one dollar and seventy-five cents per volume. It is a marvel of cheapness and combines so many excellencies, such as clear type, good paper, head-lines of contents, binding Adelaide blue cloth, showy, and six medallion portraits on each lid. There is a good portrait of Dickens, on steel, as a frontispiece. Each volume will contain designs by Cruikshank, Leech and Browne. The contents of the first volume are Pickwick Papers, Barnaby Rudge, Sketches by Boz. The edition will doubtless have a wide sale.

GRAND PAPA'S ARITHMETIC. A story of two Apple merchants. By Jean Mace. Published by P. S. Wynkoop & Son, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

Children will welcome this creation for their especial benefit. Under the guise of this delightful little story, the principles of arithmetic are set forth with such clearness that very young minds can grasp the ideas. It is written in Mace's best mood. Parents will do well to buy it for their "wee folks."

MARIETTA. By Mr. T. A. Trollope. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by W. A. Gildenfenny, Pittsburgh.

This is a story of Italian life and manners. It has the merit of giving lively and accurate sketches of the manners, habits and morals of life in Sunny Italy, and of photographing certain portions of society in Florence, about half a century ago, with remarkable fidelity. The heroine, Marietta, is presented in glowing terms. The volume will most likely be more popular than any previous work of the author.

THE GALAXY.—This highly illustrated and high toned magazine is worthy of the praise so universally bestowed by the press. The July number before us contains a number of excellent articles, among which are some of substantial merit, namely: The Church of the Future; The National Prospects and Finances; A few Thoughts about the Nerves, and Our Great Diamonds. Messrs. Sheldon & Co., the publishers, have reason to congratulate themselves for the success crowning their efforts.

THE DEAD-SEA FRUIT.—We have received through Henry Miner, this publication, No. 317 of Harper's Select Novels. The author, M. E. Braddon, has achieved quite a reputation from "Birds of Prey," and other publications.

GEN. JAMES S. NEGLEY.—Among the distinguished visitors who honored Pottsville with their presence this week, on the occasion of the semi-annual State Convention of the Grand Army of the Republic, was the honored soldier whose name heads this paragraph—the hero of Stone River. His manly presence, and affable, courteous demeanor, won him hosts of warm friends in this community, who will ever remember his visit here with pleasure, while his former companions-in-arms who served with him in the West, many of whom live here, were delighted to meet their old commander and take him by the hand. It was an event of more than ordinary interest to see on the same platforms here, addressing the people, Gen. Negley, Gen. Geary, the hero of Lookout Mountain, and Gen. Hartranft, the hero of Fort Steadman. Gen. Negley is the Congressional nominee of the Republican party in the Twenty second District of this State, and that district will, in our opinion, do itself infinite honor if it should elect him by an unprecedentedly heavy majority.—Pottsville Journal.

WHEN a French woman quits Paris for her chateau in the country she signs the death warrant of all gayety. It is despair to her to replace the scenes of the capital by the endless monotony of country life. She yawns over her tapestry work all day, and at nightfall, when the phantom ennui rises up before her, she goes to bed, to escape its ravages, at such undue hours as she would be ashamed to confess. But then everybody goes to his chateau; she must go to hers. And echo comes from every quarter of insupportable dullness, proving how incompatible the French nature is with country life. A Frenchman is full of social resources, but he depends upon his surroundings to bring them out; falling in these, he falls at once a prey to ennui—to him the worst of all human ills.—Paris Letter.

THE Federal Council of Berne have officially denied the report that many Poles had lately proceeded to Gallicia furnished with Austrian passports.
